You Should Know The Students This Year!

The student body of Wesleyan College this year is the largest with the exception of last year (which had a very slight edge on it) since 1933! The Wesleyan Conservatory enrollment shows an increase this year. And those two statements, All Ye Faithful, only go to show what a hold our Wesleyan has on the people of this state and this section.

From Far and Wide

But not only from this section! Seventeen states, Washington, D. C., and three foreign countries are represented this year. Besides Georgia and the nearby states of Florida, Alabama, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, and Mississippi, Wesleyan has girls from New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and District of Columbia, Cuba, Japan and Korea.

Their Churches

The church membership of the student body is varied: Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopalian, Lutheran, Christian, Primitive Baptist, Christian Science, Greek Orthodox, Dutch Reformed, Jewish, Evangelical, Catholic.

Their Family Connections

Eight girls in the college and conservatory this year are direct descendants of former presidents of Wesleyan.

Sarah Louise Turner of Columbus and Winnett Turner of Thomasville, cousins, are great great granddaughters of Bishop George Foster Pierce, first president of Wesleyan. Ann Culverhouse of the Conservatory, is another great great granddaughter of Bishop Pierce.

Mary Lois Hitch of Valdosta, Conservatory, is the great granddaughter of Dr. Edward H. Myers.

Ann Maria and Alice Domingos of Macon are great granddaughters of Dr. William Capers Bass.

Mary Guerry of Greenville, S. C., is the granddaughter of Judge DuPont Guerry.

Eloise Ainsworth of Atlanta is the granddaughter of Bishop W. N. Ainsworth.

Margaret Cobb of Japan has no doubt been "coming to Wesleyan" since she began going to kindergarten, for her mother and four aunts are graduates. (One aunt, Margaret Atkinson Clark, is the author of the Wesleyan Alma Mater.) Margaret and Betsy Cook of West Point, Ga., are nieces of Mrs. Florrie Cook White, beloved matron of Wesleyan who retired last June. Margaret's family is connected, also, with Alice (Culler) Cobb, who was first a Wesleyan student and later teacher of English and first "lady principal" of the college. Mrs. Cobb's marriage to Major Cobb made her the step-mother of a teen-age boy and a girl. That boy, whom she loved as her own son, was the grandfather of Margaret Cobb, freshman, who traveled thousands of miles to enter the college to which Mrs. Cobb gave so much of her life.

Branch Ellis, a new sophomore this year, is a granddaughter of Dr. T. D. Ellis, Wesleyan trustee. Also among the new girls are the nieces of two of the three very first Alumnae trustees; Ida Long Rogers, niece of Dorothy (Rogers) Tilley; and Lucy Lester, niece and namesake of Lucy Lester.

Sarah Jane Candler of Blairsville is a cousin of Judge John S. Candler, trustee and donor of the Candler Memorial Library.

Some years ago (in 1908-1912 it was) a little Chinese girl, May-ling Soong, too young to enter Wesleyan but making her home in the college dormitories, used to romp about the campus with the daughter of Wesleyan's president, Bishop W. N. Ainsworth. Eloise Ainsworth was very near May-ling's age, and Mrs. Ainsworth was a mother to both little girls. The years that followed brought untimely death to Eloise in her girlhood, and amazing fame to May-ling in her maturity as the wife of China's generalissimo. This fall another Eloise Ainsworth, niece and namesake of the first, came to Wesleyan as a freshman. Those who knew her aunt think that she resembles her. What, I wonder, would May-ling think?

Mary Stallings, Branch Ellis, Dorothy Benbow. These girls were not present when the picture on the opposite page was made. Branch Ellis, besides being an alumnae daughter is the granddaughter of Dr. T. D. Ellis, Trustee.

Eloise is daughter and granddaughter of Wesleyan alumnae, too. It was exactly fifty years ago that her grandmother, Mary (Nicholson) Ainsworth came to Wesleyan as a new student. In 1925 Mrs. Ainsworth was national president of the Wesleyan Alumnae Association. But whether an officer or not, she has carried Wesleyan with her to many lands on her travels with Bishop Ainsworth, and was responsible for the organization of many of the Wesleyan clubs flourishing today.

The Alumnae and the Students

In Atlanta and in Columbus, as has been the custom for some years, the Alumnae Clubs entertained the new girls just before their departure for college. In Atlanta the alumnae under Irene (Sewell) Hobby gave a tea at the home of Mary Louise Cordes on Lullwater Road, honoring the large delegation of 42 who came to Wesleyan from Atlanta. In Columbus the 18 Wesleyan girls were given a seated tea at the Night Owl by the alumnae, with Weeta (Watts) Mathews as president.

In many other cities alumnae made a point during the summer of getting in contact in some way with the prospective students of Wesleyan. So in part, at least, the alumnae may congratulate themselves on the fine student body this year. Besides, as one of the new girls (from Tennessee, she is) said at the opening of college, "I thought of the grand people I know who came to Wesleyan, and I could not go anywhere else".

Who's New Among Faculty and Officials

Changes among faculty and officials this year were only four:

Dr. Samuel L. Akers, already a member of the faculty of the college, was made Acting Dean to fill the vacancy left by the death of Dean Leon P. Smith last spring. Dr. Akers is professor of philosophy and psychology. He has been at Wesleyan for the past eight years, and has served the college as secretary of the faculty and as director of chapel programs. He is a graduate of the University of Tennessee, of the Garrett Biblical Institute, of Northwestern University, and of Yale University. He received the Ph.D. degree at Yale.

Miss Lucile Nelson of Charleston, S. C., was elected to the conservatory faculty as head of the voice department in the place of Mrs. Lalla Bright Ensign, resigned. Miss Nelson has had years of training under the premier teachers of this country and Europe, has had experience on concert and opera stage, and has had her own voice studio in Charleston. She has interesting plans for the voice department for this year which include the training of a glee club, a recital by herself to be given this fall, and the holding of regular "voice clinic" for her students.

Miss Florence Beasley of Reidsville, Ga., a Wesleyan graduate and a graduate of the Emory University Hospital School of Nursing, has charge of the Wesleyan Infirmary in the place of Mrs. Florrie C. White, resigned. As assistant to Mrs. White during her student days at Wesleyan and later after her graduation, Florence has already made a place for herself on the campus and in the infirmary. It was but a step from her assistantship into her new position.

Mr. Aaron Alley of Macon is the new bursar, succeeding Mr. Joe B. Hill, resigned. He comes to Wesleyan with twelve years' experience in banking, the past seven of these with the First National Bank and Trust Company in Macon. His sister, Catherine Alley, is a graduate of Wesleyan in the class of '29.

Introducing to the Alumnae—

Miss Ruth Simonson of Morgantown, West Virginia, head of the department of speech. Miss Simonson came to Wesleyan last fall, but because the magazine was at that time given over to news of the Centennial celebration, she has not been presented to the alumnae. She is a graduate of Upper Iowa University, and Carnegie Institute of Technology; has studied at Northwestern School of Speech and at Central School of Speech, affiliated with London University. She has had ten years' experience in the teaching of speech in college.

Ever since the production last year of the major plays, "Death Takes a Holiday" and "Pride and Prejudice", Miss Simonson's department has attracted the interest of theatre-goers of Macon and been one of the "brag" departments of the college and conservatory.

The Salt of the Earth

—is Joe Baker Hill, formerly bursar of Wesleyan College. The following word of appreciation is from a fellow-worker at Wesleyan.

In August this year Mr. Hill resigned as bursar of Wesleyan to go into business for himself. The decision to leave the college was a hard one for him, because he loves Wesleyan with the depth of devotion which the very founders themselves must have felt for the institution. But an unusual business opportunity came, and Mr. Hill, as the father of three little children, felt it his duty to take advantage of it. There was never any quibbling between him and what he considered his duty; he is that sort of a person.

He is just the salt of the earth; ask anyone who has worked with him as we at Wesleyan have for nine years. He was the first person we thought of going to in any sort of trouble or with any problem, every one of us down to the lowliest servant on the campus. Sometimes it was a matter of business: What shall I do about this notice from the Post Office Department? Where can we get some pines for a background for the pageant? Quite as often it was some personal tangle: How shall I fill out this income tax return, Mr. Hill? or What shall I do? My car won't start and the last bus has gone to town!

No detail of the college routine was too small for his attention. Often it was necessary to call him in the middle of the night about some question in the boiler room. More than once, in emergencies, he has taken the place of the night watchman and made the rounds of the campus to see that all was well. He was full of schemes for saving the college money in every way possible, but he kept a close watch to allow no "running down at the heels". The beauty of the campus was his pride.

The financial burdens of the college weighed him down almost as if he carried them in reality upon his back. He said as he was leaving:

"Wesleyan is a noble institution and has a way of rooting itself deep down in its employees' hearts. I feel that her ship is fast approaching a safe harbor; I know a college as old and as faithful as ours can look to no other than a bright future. The college and every member of her force will always have a deep-seated place in my heart."

We know he means every word of that, too, because sincerity was as surely a part of his nature as kindness. When we see him down town now he talks of what "we" must do this year, never having separated himself in spirit from Wesleyan. And we know that there is nothing he would not do for Wesleyan, as quietly and efficiently and wholeheartedly as ever.

Honoring Wesleyan Benefactors

On October 12th Wesleyan College and Conservatory met to honor five present-day benefactors. Faculties, officials, trustees and students of both institutions assembled in the college parlors to express their appreciation. Annabel Horn, national president of the Alumnae Association, sent the greetings of this body by telegram.

Dr. Anderson read the following resolutions:

The Faculties of Wesleyan College and Wesleyan Conservatory desire to express in the most earnest way their sincere gratitude to those five friends who in the summer of 1937 came to the rescue of Wesleyan in the time of her emergency. These friends showed a devotion to Wesleyan and to the cause of Christian education which is an inspiration to the College and community and a challenge to all friends of education. They pledged their own personal securities to the amount of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars and assumed such other financial responsibility as was necessary to enable the institution to continue its work unhampered. In so doing they showed a faith in Wesleyan, in her mission and work in her constituency, and a belief in Christian education which indicate a breadth and nobility of vision.

In view of the facts and views outlined above, and in hearty acknowledgment of the generous act of these noble persons, the Faculties of Wesleyan College and conservatory desire to place on record the following resolutions:

FIRST—We express profound gratitude to Mr. William D. Anderson, Mrs. William D. Anderson, Mr. James H. Porter, Mr. Thomas J. Stewart, and Mr. Robert J. Taylor for their splendid loyalty to Wesleyan in the time of her emergency.

SECOND—We commend in the highest terms their faith in the College and in the cause of Christian education of young women and will regard and record them as among the Benefactors of Wesleyan.

THIRD—We express to them individually our highest personal esteem and offer our sincere prayers for their health and happiness and their deserved success in their manifold noble undertakings.

FOURTH—Under the inspiration of what these friends have done, we renew our own pledge of loyalty to Wesleyan and to the cause which she so finely represents and express our confidence that our College, sustained by such friends as these five noble spirits and those whom their example will stimulate, will continue and enlarge her usefulness to the world.

FIFTH—We desire that these resolutions be presented to each of the five friends to whom we are so greatly indebted, that they be placed on the permanent records of the Faculties of Wesleyan College and Conservatory, and that copies be sent to the secular and religious press.

DICE R. ANDERSON, President

S. L. AKERS, Dean

J. M. ALMAND, Secretary of the Faculty

IRIS L. WHITMAN, Chairman Academic Council

JOSEPH MAERZ, Director Wesleyan Conservatory

JENNIE LOYALL, Alumnae Secretary.

It was the purpose of the Wesleyan Alumnae to prove their appreciation of this committee of trustees by participating with the college and trustees this fall in a campaign to raise funds to reimburse them.

But on August 26th, final word from the bondholders reported that a majority of individual bondholders had rejected the proposed settlement of $350,000 cash submitted to them by their committee.

This causes further delay and negotiations. This Trustees' Committee is continuing to represent Wesleyan. In them has been reposed the responsibility for handling the bond situation, and our confidence that they will do what is best for Wesleyan.

In due time the alumnae will have abundant opportunity to participate in the relief of Wesleyan from her burden of debt.

IN THE CANDLER MEMORIAL LIBRARY

These three freshmen are: Lucy Lester (seated), niece and namesake of Lucy Lester, A.B., '03, one of the first three Alumnae Trustees; Ida Long Rogers (standing, left), niece of Dorothy (Rogers) Tilly, A.B., '01, another of the first three Alumnae Trustees; and Sarah Jane Candler, cousin of Judge John Slaughter Candler, Trustee and donor of the Candler Memorial Library at Wesleyan.

In the background is the portrait of Judge Candler's mother, Martha Beall Candler, whose memory the Library honors.

Alumnae Scholarships

For some years Wesleyan alumnae have been putting their Loyalty Fund contributions into scholarships for outstanding students.

There is no investment which pays more returns in happiness for the students, benefit to the college, and satisfaction to the alumnae in helping such students to come to Wesleyan.

Last Year's Scholarship Girls

Of the 24 Alumnae Scholarship girls last year, three were seniors: Katherine Alfriend (cum laude) whose marriage is announced in this issue; Margaret Odom, who holds a position with the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute in Connecticut; and Clara Young (cum laude), now teaching in the Macon school system.

Of the remaining scholarship girls, all except three are back at Wesleyan this year.

This Year's Scholarships

This year the Alumnae Association turned over to Dr. D. R. Anderson at Commencement to be awarded in scholarships at his discretion, $1,000. In addition to this amount, over $1,300 was awarded in special scholarships by committees acting for the alumnae.

Twenty-two girls at Wesleyan College and Conservatory have Alumnae Scholarships. Gifts varied in amount, $200 being the largest, from Loree (Watkins) Johnson of '26. Other large gifts included $100 from Willie (Snow) Ethridge of '20; $50 each from Linda (McKinney) Anderson, Anne (Bates) Harden, Marion (Luse) Chenery; $46 (or $1 for each year since her graduation) from Sallie B. (Comer) Lathrop of '91; $25 from Lila May Chapman of '90; $50 from Ruth Field.

The oldest class represented by a contribution to the Fund was 1868, with Mary (Wardlaw) Snead of Oakland, California, as contributor.

As usual from Love (Moreland) Leigh, '84, first voluntary life-time contributor, came an annual check for the Loyalty Fund.

In addition the college gives certain scholarships, among them the competitive scholarships awarded to winners in the state-wide Historical Essay and Latin contests.

Luetta Smith Hasty Scholarship

In memory of Luetta (Smith) Hasty, magna cum laude graduate of 1928, the members of this class have given this year the scholarship bearing her name. A committee of the class at Commencement awarded this scholarship to a graduate of Jacksonville, Fla., High School, but circumstances which arose later in the summer made it impossible for her to come to Wesleyan. The scholarship was then awarded to Joyce Turner of Tampa, Fla., who enters sophomore class. Joyce is an honor graduate of the February, 1936 class of Coral Gables High School, and has studied at Tampa University, and has done summer work at the University of Pennsylvania. She is interested especially in journalism and in dramatics, and wished to come to Wesleyan because of these two departments. She is a member of the national honorary dramatic society, Alpha Si Omega.

Originator of the plan for this memorial scholarship, and tireless in her efforts in its behalf was Elizabeth (Jenkins) Steele, who was a classmate and roommate of Luetta (Smith) Hasty. As Wesleyan opened there came the tragic news of Elizabeth's sudden death of pneumonia in September.

Luetta's mother, Mrs. E. N. Smith of Monticello, writes to ask that her appreciation and that of Luetta's husband, Glenn Hasty, be expressed to the class for this tribute. "It will mean a great deal to me," she says, "to keep in touch with Wesleyan through the girl who has this scholarship. Luetta would be more pleased over this living memorial than over anything the class might have done." Mrs. Smith's niece, Ora Hollis of Crawfordville, Ga., is a student at Wesleyan Conservatory this year.

Macon Club Scholarships

As announced in the Commencement magazine, the Macon scholarships were awarded to:

Shiela Forrest and Louise Scott, Wesleyan College; Elizabeth Glass, Wesleyan Conservatory.

The Pauline Logan Findlay Scholarship, given by Margaret McEvoy, is again held by Margaret Adams.

Washington Club Scholarship

The Washington Club Scholarship, announced by Sara Branham last Commencement, was awarded to Sarah Worth of Tampa, Fla. Sarah is a second honor graduate of Hillsboro High School, was editor-in-chief of the school paper, is interested in athletics.

Tri-K Scholarship, Class of 1937

The Tri-K scholarship given by the senior class at Commencement last year was awarded to Evelyn Judge of Atlanta. Evelyn was an outstanding student of Girl's High School, and was winner of the state-wide Latin Contest which gave her a $150 scholarship to any college she chose.

Because of her unusual high school record she was offered the Tri-K scholarship, Martha Ruth Livingston and Virginia Scott acting for the class of '37.

Marion Luse Chenery Scholarship

For two consecutive years Marion (Luse) Chenery of Boston, Mass., alumna of the class of 1886 and winner of the President's Gold Medal in music that year, has given a scholarship to a girl who is especially talented in music. This year this scholarship went to Ada Ellen Irwin of LaFollette, Tenn., who enters the sophomore class.

Ada Ellen is deeply interested in a musical career, has studied music many years, and has had much experience in playing for church and civic programs. She is studying violin at Wesleyan as well as allied musical subjects, and is working at the same time on her A.B. degree.

Special Scholarship Plan

In the fall of 1936, the classes between 1920 and 1937 began intensive efforts to accumulate scholarship funds by combining into

three groups: The Golden Heart Classes, the Tri-K Classes, the Round Table Classes.

Eighty-three members of these classes generously agreed to act as "Class Fund Agents", which meant that they wrote thirty letters apiece to their classmates, ten in each month of March, April and May. Each Fund Agent bore the expense of mailing her own letters and should, therefore, be considered a contributor to the Fund. Each member of the classes received two or three letters about the Scholarships.

One hundred and twelve alumnae of these classes contributed $583, and six Wesleyan girls are at Wesleyan this year with the aid of these scholarships.

Names of contributors in each class may be found with the Class Notes of the class.

Among the delightful surprises in connection with the scholarships was the receipt of several large checks: $200 from Lorelee (Watkins) Johnson of Lakeland, Fla.; $100 from Willie (Snow) Ethridge of Prospect, Kentucky; $50 from Ruth Field of Osaka, Japan; $20 from Suelle (McKellar) Swartz of Roanoke, Virginia.

Encouraged by these healthy boosts toward our goal, the rest of us came across with our smaller but equally hard-earned contributions, and the result makes us very proud!

All of you who intended to contribute last year but did not, somehow, get around to it, put the class scholarship into your budget for 1938!

Golden Heart Scholarship

The Golden Heart Scholarship went to Elizabeth Allen of College Park, an honor graduate of Russell High School. She stood third in scholarship in a large class, and in addition took part in many extra-curricular activities. She was highly recommended by her high school principal.

Tri-K Scholarship

Marion Hobbs of Macon entered Wesleyan as a new sophomore with the Tri-K Scholarship. Marion is the sister of Marjorie (Hobbs) Douglas, A.B., '34, and of June Hobbs, A.B., '36, but she does not need to stand on the reputation of her sisters. She is well-prepared, having planned her course her first year with a view of entering Wesleyan this year.

Round Table Scholarships

Frances Jones, Bogota, N. J., who completed her four-year high school course in three years, in the upper ten of the class of 200, has one of the Round Table Scholarships. She was as a little girl mascot of the class of '26, a Round Table Class.

Paschall Jarratt of Macon, member of the honor group at Miller High, completed her five-year high school course in four years, winner of a second place in the state-wide Wesleyan Historical Essay Contest, has a second Round Table Scholarship.

Margaret Johnson of Lakeland, Florida, with the third Round Table Scholarship, made an excellent record in high school, is good in journalism and in music, took an active part in school life. She was very highly recommended by her teacher, Catherine Craig, of the class of '24.

REFRESHMENT TIME AT "THE PHARM"

Nine girls at Wesleyan are daughters or nieces of Wesleyan faculty members and officials.

Madame Kung Speaks To America

Madame H. H. Kung, wife of the Chinese Minister of Finance, was heard over the WABC—Columbia Network on Thursday, October 28, from 6:45 to 7:00 P. M. in a talk from Shanghai on the Sino-Japanese situation.

Those of us who heard her broadcast could see once again E-ling Soong of 1909 upon the Wesleyan chapel stage and could feel her nearness as she plead in our own language and in her soft voice vibrant with feeling for our help in the cause of "humanity, democracy and world peace".

What can we do about it? See that America's attitude at the coming Brussel's conference be one of determined decision to have treaties honored, she suggests.

How can Wesleyan alumnae help bring this about? As leaders in your communities, in clubs and church, read E-ling's plea, read the story on page 16 and speak in China's behalf on every possible occasion. Write or wire to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Washington, urging America's leadership for a just and peaceful settlement of the Sino-Japanese situation at the Brussel's conference, and ask others to do so.

Madame Kung spoke as follows:

Good morning, America! And to all of you listening! I am speaking to you from Shanghai, China. I am thrilled at this opportunity of speaking to you. I look upon America as my second home. I spent my school days there. And I hope those who knew me will remember me, even as I remember you, with affection.

Apart from my personal friendships in your country, America is China's traditional friend in realizing that Japan's armed aggression in China revolts the whole world with its horrors. This not only threatens China's national life but the peace of the world itself.

So far Japan has found herself unimpeded by the world. She has, however, found something else much more of a surprise to her. Utterly unexpectedly she finds China actually fighting as she never fought before, fighting with courage and skill out of all imagining.

China has consequently caused two things to be revealed: first, that we Chinese are not coward; and second, and of equal significance, that Japan is not invincible. Even though we be overwhelmed, we have pricked that bubble for the wide world to see. What the combined great powers can now all ask themselves is: Why be afraid any longer to insist upon the sanctity of treaties in order to insure the preservation of mankind? Why be afraid of this? But the world is still afraid, so the outlook is dark and forbidding.

I imagine you are asking what you can do about it. You can do a lot if you want to, but you must have the courage to work for peace. Otherwise you may wake up one day to find the war brought to your very doors while you are shouting from your housetops that you sought peace of a nation and it insulted you.

We refuse to believe that militarist Japan can override the world's conscience and pressure. In fact, after the exhibition that has been going on for the past eleven weeks right here at Shanghai, we know she can not. Do you realize that we Chinese, ill-armed and unready have held off the most modern machine of murder and massacre all these weeks—mostly with our flesh and blood and manual weapons? We did not move till flesh and blood could endure it no longer. Can you not realize then how easy it will be, if they wish, for the powers to compel the Japanese to abandon their predatory policy?

As you all know, the nations of the world are soon meeting at Brussels to speak of peaceful settlement of the Sino-Japanese situation and the breaking of the Nine Power treaty.

It is therefore timely to ask what will be America's attitude at that conference. What concrete steps will she be prepared to take in concert with other powers to back up the Nine Power treaty? Japan bluffed the world before and is trying to do so again. She claims, among other things, that time has revealed that she wanted no territory when she invaded Manchuria. She claims it again now that she is invading China proper. Will America and the powers curb Japan in plain and unmistakable terms?

America has so vital a role in determining what the future of the world is going to be that we in China are anxious about her attitude at this conference. Is it going to be an aggressive one in support of a determined decision to have treaties honored? Or will it be negative for the sake of salving conscience and avoiding trouble?

We are anxious because we saw the League of Nations become impotent before the plea for Manchuria. Since then much has gone wrong with the world, and we fear that China will once again be victimized and be opened up unto the hopes of all rich nations. The eyes of the east country are fixed upon America because they sadly need leadership, because they are waiting to see if the days of treaties and international peace are dead. All law-abiding peoples are watching because they are wondering if peace on earth is passing.

It is difficult to visualize America in any other role than that of the champion of the weak and the oppressed. It will be a stimulating thing to see her standing up fearlessly for the sanctity of treaties and justice, and refusing to be bluffed and bullied by a nation that could perpetrate such horrors as those for which Japan is responsible in China today. Treaties will stand or fall upon the upholding of justice, and peace in the world will correspondingly be blessed or be damned. The great powers have a great responsibility. They are the ones who are to determine whether weaker nations are to be succored by them, and further, whether the inhumanity of bloodshed and ruin broadcast over China today are to become the lot of other countries tomorrow.

MADAME H. H. KUNG

We cannot believe that America will do other than resolutely act to mobilize other responsible powers in the move to take the simple steps required to stop for all time what otherwise would become the recognition of a violent era of undeclared war and brutality.

This is no time for quibbling or, as you would put it, "passing the buck." This is time for stark realism. We must not fool ourselves or others wittingly or unwittingly. Above all, we must be honest. Unless America and all the powers are ready to take a bold and forthright attitude at the Brussels conference, that conference will go down in history as one of the most futile and meaningless gatherings of world statesmen that have yet been seen, and will seal the eternal doom of the cause of humanity, democracy and world peace.

FROM THE WESLEYAN MATRICULATION BOOK 1908-09

The interest and sympathy of the world are centered in China today as she engages in a new struggle with an old foe, Japan.

This is not the first time Japan has waged aggressive warfare in China, but it is the first time she has met with such unified, defiant, and effective resistance. The amazing economic, political, and spiritual development in China during the past decade has won the admiration of all nations who watch with concern as China, once a country of many minor factions, proves her loyalty to one government by her intense patriotism.

Who is responsible for this almost unbelievable change in China during the twentieth century? Everyone knows; the Soong family. E-ling, now Madame H. H. Kung, a Wesleyan graduate of 1909; Chung-ling, now Madame Sun Yat Sen, graduate of 1913; and Mei-ling, now Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, of the class of 1916; their brothers and their husbands.

Since their return to China after their college days these three have devoted themselves to the interests of their country. They married men who were leaders; they have stood side by side with them in every movement. It is largely through the Soong sisters, familiar with the ways of the Occident as well as of the Orient, that the world has learned of China's ideals and progress. They have been the mouthpieces of the nation, the interpreters of China.

The Chinese Revolution

In 1936 China celebrated the Silver Jubilee of the Chinese Revolution. This Revolution occurred when Chung-ling Soong was a sophomore at Wesleyan, and evoked from her an article called "The Greatest Event of the Twentieth Century" which appeared in the Wesleyan student magazine. Within a few years she had returned to China and become the wife of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the Revolution and first president of the Chinese Republic.

During his life-time she worked with him, often amid great hardships, and since his death has been revered and beloved by all China. In an article in "The Forum" for August, 1937, China Unconquerable, Chung-ling expresses her belief in the ultimate triumph of her country, in the same clear, logical way that characterized her thinking as a student.

The Growth of Nationalism

In accordance with Dr. Sun's Plan of National Reconstruction, the Chinese Revolution was to be carried out in three periods: The Period of Military Operations, The Period of Political Tutelage, and The Period of Constitutionalism. It fell to E-ling and her husband, Dr. H. H. Kung, Vice-President of the Executive Yuan and Minister of Finance, and to Mei-ling and her husband, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, to help in guiding the nation through the first two of these periods. China stands today on the threshold of the third.

Dr. Kung has made miraculous advances in the financial reconstruction of modern China, and he and Madame Kung are China's Ambassadors of Good-Will. They made a trip to the West in 1932. Dr. Kung was Chief Delegate of the Republic of China to the coronation of King George in May, and spent some month afterward in Europe and America winning friends for China and arranging important loans for the protection of his country, securing $100,000,000 from England alone.

Madame Kung had planned to accompany him on this trip also, herself a gracious, charming diplomat. But since her mother's death, she has held the grave responsibility of head of this remarkable family, and day and night works with them for China. Threats of the present trouble with Japan became too imminent for her to leave.

The New Life Movement

Mei-ling Soong and her husband, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, began three years ago in China The New Life Movement, an organization which fosters patriotism, development of good habits, moral, hygienic, and economic, and the performance of specific work for community welfare.

On February 20th this year Mei-ling spoke over the Central Broadcasting Station at Nanking on the progress of this Movement which, while working material changes and improvements, is really spiritual and idealistic—is, in fact, the Christian principles in practice.

Mei-ling sends a daily cablegram to the New York Herald Tribune in order that America may keep in touch with the war in China. She writes long articles explaining the plans of the government. She rescued her husband from a Manchurian war-lord last December. She directs China's air forces.

Surely, back of the leadership and the unselfish idealism of the three Soong sisters there must have been some powerful influences. There were: their mother was a strong, effective woman of unusual consecration and perspicacity; their father was an American-educated man who, although he sent his daughters to get the best of Christian education in America, never let them forget that their first allegiance was to their own country and their high trust was to bring to China the benefits of their education.

Then, each of the Soongs spent five years at Wesleyan College. We like to feel that this college, with its background of tradition and its very atmosphere of idealism, had much to do with the shaping of their lives. Here the little fourteen-year-old E-ling was received by President DuPont Guerrey almost as a member of his own family when she came to begin her education. Here Mrs. M. M. Burks, that noble teacher whose influence is still felt although she has been dead for ten years, touched the lives of all three girls, and especially of Mei-ling, who was privately tutored by Mrs. Burks' daughter, "Miss Margie". Here Mei-ling as a child played with Eloise Ainsworth, little daughter of the president, and listened to advice from Mrs. Ainsworth. Only a few years ago, when Mrs. Ainsworth was in China with her husband, the Bishop, Mei-ling threw her arms about the older woman's neck and cried,

"Oh, Mrs. Ainsworth, you thought all the talks you gave me and Eloise were not sinking in, but they are here in my heart now."

The interest and sympathy of the world are centered in China today as the uplifting of this entire nation, one of the most remarkable accomplishments of all history, is in danger of being crushed by a cruel invasion. Nowhere is the outrage felt more keenly than in this college, the fostering mother of the Soong girls. In the hearts of the students and faculty and of the alumnae in the four corners of the globe come protests of the horrible injustice, acclaim for the heroism of the Chinese, and the desire and determination to help them.

ALUMNAE COUNCIL MEETING

December 4

11:00 A. M.—Rivoli

Annabel Horn will talk about the "New Education".

Interesting plans for the year will be made. Would you like Alumnae-College Days in the spring? When? On what subjects would you like to have talks?

All club presidents, class secretaries, committee and group chairmen, officers, and trustees are cordially invited to the Council Meeting. Lunch will be served in the college dining room.

Annual Arbor Day Program will follow lunch.

Write your orders for trees and shrubs to the co-chairmen:

Octavia (Burden) Stewart, Vineville Ave.,
Macon, Ga., or

Lucia (Chappell) Domingos, Forsyth St.,
Macon, Ga.

Club Notes

Margaret (Zattau) Roan, second vice-president, is planning to visit Wesleyan clubs this year, and to call District Meetings in each of the ten Congressional Districts of Georgia.

To the Atlanta Club goes the credit for the beautiful Wesleyan booth which was so much admired at the Southeastern Fair in Atlanta in October. With Irene (Sewell) Hobby as president of the club and Robert (Graham) Warner as chairman of the booth committee, the alumnae worked valiantly, and during the fair each group took charge of the booth for one day as hostesses.

In a setting of soft lavender walls outlined by purple moulding, stood the figure of "Wesleyan", dressed in lavender with a purple satin cloak. She reaches out her hands to the United States and the world, represented by maps. Above the map of the former was a sign:

Students of Today are from 17 States and 3 Foreign Countries
Alumnae in Every State
Above the world map was the statement:
Alumnae reside in 18 Countries.

Pictures of interest connected with Wesleyan's history, (her charter, her buildings, etc.,) and with her outstanding alumnae (the three Shong sisters of China) were on exhibit.

The exhibit was classed as one of the best and Wesleyan was one of the few exhibitors invited to describe the booth over the radio during the duration of the Fair. Among the exhibits nearby was one of a movie company which showed the Wesleyan Centennial Film taken under the direction of Mr. Charles Beeland at Commencement, 1936.

The LaGrange Club recently elected Nell (Eley) Collier president, and Lucile (Bryant) Johnson as secretary. The retiring secretary, Jewel (Faver) Glass, sent news notes about every member of the club for this alumnae magazine.

The Macon Club held its first Executive Board meeting at Wesleyan in October, with Helen (Cater) Farmer presiding. Plans for the current year were discussed, and the group were guests of the college for lunch. Officers of the club, in addition to the president, are first vice-president, Ruth (Renfroe) Browder; second vice-president, Marjorie (Gugel) Key; third vice-president, (White) Thornton; fourth vice-president, Frances Owens; treasurer, Estelle (Holmes) Mason; secretary, Rachel (Johnson) Ross; group leaders, Ruby (Jones) Grace, Alice (Burden) Domingos, Martha (Rolston) Adams, Frances Owens.

The Marshallville Club gave a shower in October honoring Katherine (Snooks) Walker, president, whose wedding was an event of the fall.

The St. Petersburg, Florida, Club has as its president for next year Elizabeth (Coates) James, who made a special trip to Wesleyan this summer to the college to get material for the club's programs during the year. She plans for the club to make a study of Wesleyan's history and outstanding alumnae in various fields: education, religion, journalism, science, etc.

The Waycross Club has new officers as follows: President, Eddie Mae (Barrett) Spear; Secretary, Dorothy (Quillian) Smith; Publicity Chairman, Alice Hinson. The club has about thirty members, and held its first meeting of the year in October.

The Changing Times

"No, I would not give you a penny to build such a school! I would not have a wife from your female college. I could not so much as build a pig pen without her criticizing it and saying it was not built according to mathematical lines."

—A gentleman of means in 1835 to George Foster Pierce, first president of Wesleyan College

"Young ladies, you may be very sure that you will be an incomparably more valuable (and, I will add, more VALUED) wife with a college diploma in your possession than you could be without it."

—Dr. George Elijah Rosser speaking in chapel at Wesleyan, September, 1937

Class Notes

REUNION CLASSES IN MAY, 1938

1888, 1889, 1890, 1891

1907, 1908, 1909, 1910

1926, 1927 1928, 1929

Editorial Note: From Jewel (Faver) Glass, retiring secretary of the LaGrange Wesleyan Alumnae Club, came a most interesting letter containing news notes about every member of the club for the November magazine. The notes have been placed in the magazine according to classes, and whenever you come across a LaGrange note you may be sure that the club secretary was responsible for sending it in. The Editor wishes to thank the club, and to express the hope that other club secretaries will follow the example of this one.

1863

1865

The Macon Telegraph recently carried in two installments some interesting reminiscences by a 94-year-old "Wesleyan girl" of the Civil War days, Mary Emma (Lewis) Mason. In it she tells of Sherman's march through Georgia, when it was reported that he would pass through Macon. Dr. J. M. Bonnell, president of the college at the time, Prof. Cosby Smith, and other notables of the sixties at Wesleyan, are mentioned.

1873

Class Secretary: Mrs. Thomas Peters (Kate Ross), 358 Parkway Dr., Atlanta, Ga.
Ida (Frazer) Turrentine had an article in the fall issue of "The Adelphean" called "When Our Sorority Was Young", and telling of her Wesleyan days of 1870. Her picture accompanied the article.

Sympathy is extended to Minnie (Bass) Burden in the death of her husband, Richard F. Burden, in March. Mr. Burden, one of the most beloved citizens of Macon, president of Burden, Smith and Company for more than a half century, steward in the Vineville Methodist Church, had been in failing health for three months.

Minnie (Bass) Burden writes with sorrow of the death of her classmate, Amelia (Holmes) West of Cuthbert. She says: "Amelia leaves five children, two sons and three daughters. Her granddaughter, Amelia Phillips, was a graduate at Wesleyan in the class of '36. Amelia was modest and retiring, and portrayed the truest devotion and loyalty to her family and friends. She was a member of the U. D. C. and of the Cuthbert Methodist Church. At Wesleyan she was a member of the Adelphean Society."

Mary Lou (Little) Bruce, who frequently visits her daughters, still calls LaGrange, Ga., home and spends the greater part of her time there. Her interest in Wesleyan has never waned.

Kate (Ashburn) Campbell, whose home is in San Antonio, Texas, wrote in May for a list of her living classmates, saying, "For years I kept up with Wesleyan, and had a list of all the alumnae of the college, but twenty years ago I lost my home by fire and all keepsakes, relics and records were destroyed. Wesleyan is the only school I ever attended. When I was less than nine years old my dear mother was offered a position as matron at Wesleyan. She taught me herself until I could enter the preparatory class. I was the youngest member of my graduating class of 56 in 1875. I am exceedingly proud of Wesleyan as my Alma Mater and regretful that I cannot come back for class reunions."

1876

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. G. Solomon (Lillian Roberts), 218 Forsyth St., Macon, Ga.

Mattie (Bowman) Howard's picture appeared in the Macon Telegraph on Mothers' Day, May 9. Mrs. Howard and three daughters attended Wesleyan, and a greatniece, Helen Jones, is a student at Wesleyan today. Her granddaughter, Martha Balkcom, entered the freshman class this year.

*"Where, oh where have my classmates gone?
Where, oh where can they be?
I've searched for them everywhere
Searched for them long—
Where, oh where can they be?"*

Won't somebody tell me—

Alice Trippie promised to come back—Jennie Hammond ought to be here—Kittie Stewart would keep us smiling—they were all so smart and full of life!

Florence Allen and Clara Patten, have been faithful all the years—and we will have news of them soon I hope. Aurie Davis did come at Commencement and was the representative of the class. I was laid up with arthritis but my heart was there. I love all the happy memories!

Lillian (Roberts) Solomon,
Class Secretary.

1878

Class Secretary: Mrs. Washington Dessau (Fannie Gilmer) 301 Hines Terrace, Macon, Ga.

Fannie (Gilmer) Dessau asks that her classmates send her news of themselves. "It has been long since I had word from them."

1879

Class Secretary: Mrs. Cuyler King (Henrietta Nisbet) 1706 Park Dr., Charlotte, N. C.

From C. W. Deming of Waycross came this message in the summer: "My sister, Lizzie Deming, passed away May 30th, 1937. As a boy I attended my sister's graduation exercises in the old Wesleyan hall, and recall vividly the scene, and also Dr. Bass and Prof. Derry." Lizzie Deming was a loyal member of the class and of the Alumnae Association, and during the Centennial year wrote: "Over thirty-seven years ago I became a cripple from a fall. So I cannot accept the invitation to come to Wesleyan for Commencement, but I cannot let this opportunity pass without saying how many times I have thought of my college days, always with the sweetest memories. Recently I read, 'A loving memory is the most valuable, the most sacred thing one may have to live by through the years.' Through the 57 years since my graduation every memory of Wesleyan has been precious to me."

1880

Class Secretary: Mrs. Alfred Truitt (Ida Price), 1027 Columbia Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

Lee Dunklin spent the summer at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, with her sister. She is in Macon again this winter at the Nevarro Apts.

Campbell T. King, the husband of Stella (Hunt) King, was 85 on July 26, is superintendent of the Riverside cemetery in Macon, and is still active in business. He is often a guest at Wesleyan with his wife at alumnae gatherings.

1881

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. W. Daves (Annie Hopkins), Cartersville, Ga.

1882

Class Secretary: Mrs. Mary Anderson (Mary Jones), Talladega, Ala.

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. D. Lamar, Dorothy (Blount), 238 Georgia Ave., Macon, Ga.

Dorothy (Blount) Lamar broke into print in the magazine "Time" for October 18th. The news story tells of a speech she made at a U. D. C. convention in which a slip of the tongue caused her to name Lincoln instead of Jefferson as the President of the Confederacy. The speaker, with her characteristic good nature, laughed as heartily as anyone at her error. It is particularly humorous to Macon people who know "Miss Dollie" as a most ardent daughter of the Confederacy, and a national Historian in the organization. A lovely picture of her accompanies the story in "Time".

1884

Class Secretary: Mattie Rogers, 274 Georgia Ave., Macon, Ga.

Itura (Moreland) Leigh of Grantville grows more charming and versatile every year. Her latest contribution to the art field is a new group of her figurines suggesting Margaret Mitchell's famous Negro characters in "Gone With the Wind." She very cleverly portrays Mammy, who really wears Rhett's red taffeta petticoat; Uncle Peter, the coachman; and Prissy. And Miss Mitchell was greatly pleased and properly impressed.

1885

Sympathy is extended to Effie (Barden) Burke, and to Agnes Barden, A.B. '90, in the death of their brother, Nathaniel Hardwick Barden of Indiana.

Sympathy is extended to Dellie (Freeman) Young in the death of her husband in January after a long illness. Dellie has three sons and seven daughters. Ida, A.B. '33, and Clara, A.B. '37, both graduated from Wesleyan with honor and both were elected to the Phi Delta Phi Honor Society.

1886

Class Secretary: M. Kate Neal, 1364 Emory Road, N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

*"For I as man with men am linked,
And not as brick with bricks;
No gain I experience must remain un-shared."*

It was good to be with Anne (Allen) Johnston at her house in Franklin, N. C. Anne is in fine health, but a great sorrow has recently come to her in the loss of her youngest son, Robert—a successful broker and fine citizen of Paducah, Ky. A wife and little son survive him. Anne will spend the winter at 3208 San Carlos, Tampa, Fla.

When Lynn Branham visits her sister, Mrs. Mattie Branham Moore in Bolton, Annie and Kate always go to see her. Lynn just will give you something good to eat, but the real feast is the light we find on Lynn's social welfare activities in her beloved Oxford, Ga.

When M. Lillian Bremer of Queens-Chicora College, Charlotte, N. C. visits relatives in Decatur, each time her class mates go to see her, they decide that young, fresh look, Lillian retains comes from the pursuit of her art and from living every day with young folks.

Laura (Brown) Miller, has made her home for many years at the Robert Fulton Hotel, New York. Laura says children, church, and business are her chief activities. Her granddaughter, 7 years, Ann Davenport Miller, thinks grandmother's Wesleyan College is fine. Two-year-old grandson, Warren Bailey Miller, prefers a blue ball to a red one—a recruit for Yale—following his father's footsteps.

Stella (Duncan) Cater has just had a visit to Greensboro, N. C., where her sons Dr. Robert Cater and Dr. Duncan Cater are well-known specialists. While there, Stella delighted in naming her new grandson Clinton Duncan Cater, son of Dr. and Mrs. Duncan Cater.

Jimmie (Finch) Boone's son, Dr. Wood, is an X-ray Specialist for Lake County, Florida Hospital. Jimmie speaks joyfully of her three great grandsons, and there is a prideful quiver in her voice when she tells of young Jeff's very fine intelligence test.

Bobbie (Graham) Warren is always active as President of group one—Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae. She was chosen as the General Chairman of the Wesleyan Exhibit at the Southeastern Fair in October.

Blanche (Hall) Neel, and Mattie (O'Daniel) Smith enjoying some pleasant days at Indian Springs, sent their class secretary a card "wish you were here". That friend echoed the thought, for she knew the quiet beauty of that place, having gone with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haden there, as we returned from Wesleyan Commencement.

The Alumnae of Wesleyan 1886 and the Alumni of Emory 1886 have always been good friends.

Mamie (Holtzclaw) Robeson's class is specially interested in the lovely Gateway Gift to Emory University from Mamie's husband, Mr. L. B. Robeson of Marietta. This gift is erected as a memorial to Bishop Atticus Haygood, and Dr. Isaac Stiles Hopkins, distinguished alumni of Emory College, Oxford, Ga.

We gladly record that Annie (Hyer) Coleman has recovered, and is able to drive her car again. There were many weeks of suffering for her as a shut-in with a broken arm. Annie had her children and grandchildren in a family reunion, when her son Paul and wife came from Indiana for a visit.

Florence Irene Leonard is spending a year at 89 Peakview, or Elteka Lodge, Manitou Springs, Colorado.

Ida (Murphey) Pound says being a grandmother to twelve grandchildren is her fine job. She recently acquired a grandson-in-law Willie Pound Edward's daughter, Maude, married Rev. Robert Milton Green of the Kentucky Conference. Ada had a refreshing summer at Tallulah Falls and Franklin, N. C. The view from Wayah Bald has a memory that lingers for all time.

Emy (Norris) Hall likes to go on business trips with her daughter, Mrs. R. H. Reynolds, who lives "just around the corner" and is Director of Welfare Work in Baldwin County. They go into the byways and hedges of the county, over blind roads and into desolate homes, yet even so most of the people they find are cheerful and courageous. One old darkey said: "Missis, I have blood high pressure". Emy says she has the same, and in addition, "believe it or not," she is getting older every day, and some days she gets older twice a day, but she is just as bad as ever." We do not believe the bad statement, for she has just spent 5 weeks at that wonderful Presbyterian Assembly Grounds—Montreat, N. C.

Minnie Fay Rice, Mattie (O'Daniel) Smith, Blanche (Hall) Neel, Emma Smith, and Kate Neal ate together in the dear old Chapel at Commencement, and again at the Dempsey Hotel Luncheon. These four Macon girls may always be counted on for loyal, gracious courtesies.

There were many happy days for Minnie Fay Rice in her annual sojourn with relatives and friends in her native Houston county. Recently she has had some trying experiences of reconditioning and getting adjusted in a new apartment.

The new number is 5 Nevaro Apts., Macon, Ga.

That good teacher for 50 years, Emma Smith, took a well deserved rest by summering among the mountains of North Georgia in Clayton. Mamie (Hawkins) Jones of Tampa, Florida was among the friends she found there.

Minnie (Wilcox) Anderson is with her daughter, Amelia, at Alexandria, Va. Mr. Thigpen is engaged at work in Washington, D. C.

M. Kate Neal,
Class Secretary.

Class Secretary: Mrs. E. A. Douglass (Jennie Martin), Lake Mary, Fla.

Louise (Massey) Solomon and her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in May. They are the parents of four daughters and one son, and have nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

1888

Class Secretaries: Mrs. W. T. Stone (Ida Lowrey), Blakely, Ga.; Mrs. Belle S. Wootten (Belle Stewart), Gray, Ga.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Ella (Crosby) Kemp sends in her new address, 500 Oak St., Palatka, Fla., and reports that she can boast of five daughters and ten grandchildren, six of them boys. The daughters have all left the home nest but one, and she will go this month. One granddaughter is a freshman at Florida State College for Women in Tallahassee. Ella says she will never get old enough for school boys and girls to fail to interest her. The oldest daughter's home is in Palatka, so Ella and her husband are moving there in order to be near her. She sends many good wishes to the class!

The newspapers on October 3rd announced the approaching wedding of Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Kelly of Savannah, to John Warren Kidd of Atlanta, formerly of Milledgeville, the marriage to take place in October. This is of interest to us for the groom is the son of our classmate, Lowwill (Culver) Kidd.

Annie Lou (DeJarnette) O'Neale lives at 1027 W. Russell Place, San Antonio, Texas, with her son, A. L. O'Neale, Jr.

There is general rejoicing that "Alma Mater" is on her feet again, her halls resounding to the tread of students who have sought the "Oldest and Best!" Among these are Sadie and Marjorie Standifer, Winifred Davis and Vivian Maddox, from Blakely. The two sisters are daughters of Reba Standifer, and Winifred the daughter of Mattie (Carter) Davis, each "old Wesleyan girls." The latter relegated me to the old age dump-heap by laughingly announcing one day (in the presence of witnesses!) that she was born the year my class was graduated! What to do? I even the score right now, by announcing that she, also, is a grandmother, her daughter Martha, who studied at Wesleyan in 1936 is now Mrs. Guyton McLendon, of Vienna, Ga., and the proud mother of a fine young son!

I am never able to get notes from every member of our class at once, and Belle (Stewart) Wootten and I divide the list and each takes a part, but I was distressed when a note came back to me saying that she is ill, and is not able right now to undertake writing or any other work for her beloved Wesleyan. Having been laid aside myself since an accident on May 11th, and just recently beginning to "take hold" again, my warmest sympathy goes to any one so circumstanced. It is such a pleasure for a shut-in to get a breath of the out-of-doors, and I suggest that each of our classmates send Belle a cheery card or letter, in appreciation of the work she has already done for our class. To a shut-in something from outside is bracing, and I recall how last winter in Connecticut my little granddaughter used to wave her little mittened hand at me as the nurse took her out for a constitutional, even in the falling snow, and she'd call out gleefully, "Out-side!" She'd come in with eyes like stars and cheeks like roses.

Louise (Morse) Riddle, Davisboro, Ga. writes that the Post Office still claims her attention eight hours per day, and on January 1st she will have served fourteen years as Postmaster, and four years as Assistant. For several years she has chosen Chattanooga, Tenn. as a "base" from which she makes vacation trips about the country. From there she can easily reach Lookout Mountain and Point Park, in the center of which is the beautiful Peace Monument erected by New York State. Also at Chickamauga Park, the burial place of a hundred and twenty thousand Civil War soldiers, there are many markers, monuments and tablets erected by the different States in honor of their dead. Louise also made some "Dam trips,"—seeing Norris Dam, a now completed TVA project out from Knoxville, and the Chickamauga Dam out from Chattanooga, to be completed in 1940. She saw also the Great Smoky Mountain National Park in Western North Carolina. For the past four summers she has made headquarters at Chattanooga, and never tires of the beautiful scenery and the many places of historical interest.

Clara (Boynton) Cole, 53 Fifteenth St., N. E., Atlanta, Ga., has recently had a great time with her children and grandchildren. Her daughter, Mrs. Austin Emerson, of Charlotte, N. C., with husband and three children, made their visit in August. In September another daughter, Mrs. Milton Heath, of Chapel Hill, N. C. with husband (Prof. of Economics) and three children, Milton Jr., Elizabeth and Robert, came down for a visit. Mrs. Emerson's two older children are boys, Bill and Boynton, but I have not yet made the acquaintance of the youngest member of the family. Clara has a note from Mamie (Haygood) Ardis, whose loyalty and enthusiasm for Wesleyan are already at work planning to attend our next Commencement. She is also eager to see the gateway which Mr. Linton Robeson is having erected on the Emory University campus, one of the marble posts of which will bear the name of her father, Bishop Atticus Haygood, the other the name of Dr. Isaac S. Hopkins, father of our classmate, Jessie Hopkins, and of Annie (Hopkins) Daves, '81.

Sallie (Lowrey) Wolfe, North, S. C., who has not been very strong this year, writes that the extent of her activities at present consists in teaching a Sunday School Class, and pottering around a little with her flowers, having turned housekeeping over to her daughter Mildred. She and Mildred and the two sons, John and Frederick, both of whom teach in North Carolina Agricultural College, were at Junaluska this summer, and while there enjoyed so much meeting again Mrs. Frank Siler (formerly "Miss Emmie Allen", beloved teacher at Wesleyan) and who talked of the "dear girls," and her distress over the College finances, which it was gratifying to learn were later adjusted.

The day after receiving Clara Boynton's message I had an airmail letter from Mamie (Haygood) Ardis (new address 423 New St., Downey, Cal.) which says that my card to her "re-stimulated her plan to come back to precious old Dixie" next year, even if she did come last year! She wants to be at Wesleyan Commencement and also at Emory's, when the marble gateway, an enduring testimonial of the appreciation of Mr. Linton B. Robeson of Marietta, Ga. is dedicated to her father and the father of Jessie Hopkins and Annie (Hopkins) Daves, two outstanding Presidents of Old Emory who are held in loving and grateful memory. Another drawing card for Mamie to the Emory Library will be the oil portrait of her father a gift of his four children, which was unveiled at the last Commencement by his son, Wilbur F. Haygood of Decatur, and accepted by the President, Dr. Harvey Cox, the address being delivered by Col. Robt. L. Avery of Atlanta. Mamie's six children are near her, three in Downey and three in Long Beach. She has given up her big music class that has been the joy of her life for years, and now concentrates on her grandchildren, who are a delight to her. Her old "Futurity Album" will accompany her on the next trip to Dixie, so all you "old girls" go down in the chests and bring up your own so that when Mamie comes you'll be ready for a "show-down!"

Jessie Hopkins, Carnegie Librarian, Atlanta, Ga., kindly complied with my request as to what she does with her spare time by giving me (shall I call it a bird's eye view?) of what she is expected to do during the current year. She claims that she hasn't done anything recently to merit notoriety, but she will "sure merit sump'n" when this schedule is completed! She is now President of the Atlanta Library Club; Vice-Pres. of the Atlanta Branch of the League of American Pen Women; Chairman of the Fine Arts Department of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, and recently appointed by the Governor on the State Board of Certification for Librarians. And if we don't hear from her any more this year we may know the worst has happened, and she has contracted that contagious disease known as "Clubitis," for which there is no known cure!

Hattie (Connor) Stevens, Cave Spring, Ga. claims that when it comes to Class notes she "is below zero", but quoting an old colored Mammy of the long ago she says, "I'm here, honey, an' yo'll hatter low dat's sump'n!" She is so anxious to hear from her classmates, and especially her old roommates, Florence Nisbet and Carrie Love of old No. 7. (The Secretary would like to have Florence's address, as she has not been able to locate her for several years). "Connor" has passed the old college numbers of times since the days of '88, but her heart would get to "acting up" with all the memories of the past, and she just couldn't go in. (One of these oft-in-the-stilly-night feelings, when fond memory brings back the light of other days, so to speak). Jessie loves those old days, and recalls the friends and the pranks that enlivened the too-too studious hours! She recalls "Little Hop" (how many recognize the name?) reminding her of being late for morning prayer, but that was the hour Miss Post had assigned for "Connor's" piano practice, and Miss Post would look in occasionally to see whether she were reading or practicing! She writes: "I'll bet Jessie Hopkins remembers how we used to scheme to get Prof. Derry to talk about the War Between the States; sometimes it was hard to trap him, but after sufficient persuation he'd say, "Well, I'll tell you where that happened," (some special item that they figured would get him started) and as I, too, remember, we were safe then till the end of the period! "Connor's" son, George, and his wife, who live in East Orange, N. J. came down for a happy visit in June. Her daughter, Jessie, is teaching in the School for the Deaf, and mother and daughter live together, though Connor is no longer teaching, but is Librarian and Museum Director in the school. She sees Estelle and Addie Mitchell (Rome, Ga.) occasionally.

The tragic death last spring of our classmate Hattie (Davis) Gambrell brought sorrow to our hearts, and our tenderest sympathy went out to her loved ones.

*"No matter how heavy our loss is,
No matter how great our despair,
Doesn't Heaven seem nearer and brighter
To know that our loved ones are there?"*

Ida (Lowrey) Stone,
Class Secretary.

1889

Class Secretary: Mrs. Geo. Watson (Annie Lou Laney), 319 Duncan Ave., Macon, Ga.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Lily (Abbott) Everett is the author of a book of short stories, "Dance or Die" which has recently come off the press. Most of the stories have Georgia settings. One is a sketch of a typical school-teacher, the author's grandfather, who was Bibb County's first superintendent of schools after the close of the War Between the States. Also mentioned in the book is the author's mother, who taught at Wesleyan.

Centenary Church in Macon held an "open house" in June, when Annie Lou (Laney) Watson's family including children, grandchildren, sons and daughters-in-law were together from two hemispheres. The church did honor to the family for its work throughout the history of the institution. Annie Lou (Laney) Watson's daughter, Mrs. James Ellis, returned this summer with her husband to Brazil after a year's furlough.

Imogene (Walker) Hannah of Montgomery, Ala., has returned from a trip to Europe. She spent six weeks with her sister in New York City, and has just received a certificate from the School of Journalism there.

1890

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. P. Coleman (Ida Mangham), Massee Apts., Macon, Ga.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Lila May Chapman had a very serious illness last fall with pneumonia, and was for many weeks in the hospital. After her recovery, she came to Macon for a few weeks with her brother, Mr. Harry Chapman, and was on several occasions a guest of Wesleyan College.

1891

Class Secretary: Mrs. Walter Grace, Sr. (Ruby Jones), 631 Forsyth St., Macon, Ga.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Julia (Allen) McCain is very active in church, civic and educational work in Los Angeles, California, and is president of the South Carolina Society of southern California. Her son, Dr. James A. McCain, is assistant to the president of Colorado State College, and is rated as one of the nation's youngest college executives.

Mrs. Mary N. Rice of Memphis, Tenn., died this spring at the age of 105. She was an aunt of Mary (Nicholson) Ainsworth, who has a beautiful photograph of Mrs. Rice made on her hundredth birthday.

Birt (Thomas) Park and her daughter, Nancy, have taken an apartment in Miami for the winter.

Class Secretary: Mary Bond Smith, Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

Dear Classmates:

I must tell you of our plans for the class reunion last Commencement.

Letters were sent to every member of the class. Replies came from:

Pinkye (Sikes) Houston of Aberdeen, Mississippi. Our hearts were saddened by her regrets and the cause—the recent death of her husband, Judge Winston Houston.

Bertha (Willingham) Seibles was sailing for Europe in May. The date of the reunion conflicted, so her regrets came instead, with a promise to come to Macon later.

Mary (Muse) Gillespie and Margaret (Moore) Jarrell wrote that they could not come. Fannie (Freeman) Taylor sent her regrets and greetings to the class. Claudia Little from Waycross could not join us. Letters from Rosa (Gilleland) Gordy and Ethel (Heard) leFevre were returned unclaimed. Hermione (Ross) Walker wrote of the recent advent of her daughter Emily's son, Temp Davis, Jr. Her services as grandmother were needed, so she could not come.

An informal gathering of local members of the class at the home of Louise (Callaway) Cutler was held a few days before Commencement. Maud Hill, Gertrude (Roberts) Anderson, Loulie (Link) Cason, Rosa Taylor, Maggie (Rees) Nelson, Lila Cabiness, Dellie (Rogers) McCaw, and I enjoyed the delights of this fellowship. The old days were remembered and the hilltop overlooking the New Wesleyan echoed the laughter at memories told of the happenings on that other hill in the days of the gay nineties.

Again at the Dempsey at the formal gathering of the Alumnae we had naught to regret but the absentees.

After the luncheon we went in a group to see Fannie Bell (Vinson) Vinson, living in a lovely country home. We went also to see Addie (Corbin) Stone who was ill in the hospital. We took flowers and good cheer to her bedside. Since this reunion she has had another one, with those of our class in the Homeland, having left us July 15.

We had as our honor guest Lorena Coleman, daughter of our classmate, Mattie Lou (Griffith) Coleman. Lorena is one of the teachers in the Whittle School of which Rosa Taylor is principal. Rosa is very happy to have the efficient daughter of our classmate on her teaching staff. We hoped to have our two living ex-teachers, Prof. G. R. Glenn and Mrs. Emily Allen Siler. Both sent their regrets, and "Miss Emily" sent us the message here given. She is the same wonderful loving-hearted teacher. It was my pleasure to see her for a few moments in her home in Junaluska, the same Miss Emily with the gain, but not the loss, of the years.

Mary Bond Smith,

Class Secretary.

Mary Bond Smith sent to all of her classmates a copy of the letter which their old teacher, Emily (Allen) Siler wrote to them at Commencement from her home at Lake Junaluska, N. C. "Miss Emily" sent for the class one of her poems which was written as a birthday message to a Wesleyan girl, Georgia Wilder. It is as follows:

Life's Mingled Cup

*Said Joy, "I claim this child as mine
And she shall never borrow
Your ashen robes in which to walk
By your side thorn-crowned Sorrow.
I'll thrill her voice with gladness sweet
And fill her eyes with shining,
Till all that look and all that hear*

Shall banish their repining."

"Nay, Sister mine," sweet Sorrow said

In accents soft and steady,

"The hero souls in earthly life

Who help God make things ready,

Are those who clasp hands close with me

In days when heaven is hidden,

And, deeply taught by Pain the Strong,

Go forth to bless unbidden."

"Let us together teach this child

That life hath deepest meaning

To him who yields himself to Love

And moves straight through the seeming

Tangled maze of human years

A-hearing Love's high story,

Till Joy and Sorrow blend as one

And earth catch heaven's glory."

1893

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. O. Jones (Loula Evans) Newnan, Ga.

Dear Classmates:

Lenna (Stevens) Manley spent the month of July at Daytona Beach. Lenna lives in Griffin and has one son, John Stevens Manley, who is married and is a comfort and joy. Lenna is one classmate I have always kept in touch with and love dearly. I had the pleasure of being with her during the North Georgia Missionary Conference in April. She has a lovely home and is a perfect hostess.

I had a pleasant surprise not long ago—a visit from Daisy (Mitchell) Cooper. She has two married children and an unmarried daughter in Atlanta with whom she makes her home. Her sister, Ruth (Mitchell) Winter, lives in Miami, Fla. Among the most pleasant recollections of my girlhood are the happy days spent in their Thomasville home.

I had the pleasure of seeing Stella Daniel of Macon while she was visiting Judge and Mrs. Nathan Brown of Columbus, Ga. Mrs. Brown (Annie Daniel) is Stella's sister, and is so fine in every way.

My husband and I attended the Rotary International Conference in Nice, France. After five days spent there we toured Italy, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, France, England and Scotland.

In Paris I met two charming Macon girls, the Misses Jackson. In the Louvre while the guide was saying, "Observe closely this picture of the Mona Lisa. You will see she has no eyebrows," I was whispering to them, "Do tell me about Wesleyan!" When they told me that arrangements had been completed and Wesleyan would open as usual, the waters looked bluer, the sun shone more brightly, and the flowers seemed sweeter and more colorful to yours,

Loula (Evans) Jones,

Class Secretary.

1894

Class Secretary: Mrs. Lucy K. Johnson (Lucy Keen), 59 Boulevard, Gainesville, Ga.

Lucy (Keen) Johnson is living now in Gainesville with her son, Fletcher M. Johnson. She writes, "One of my joys recently was an encounter with my old friend, Daisy Peddy of Newnan. She is an 'old Wesleyan girl' of whom we are all proud.

"I am living on the same street with Mary (Banks) Morcock, '30, and Mary (Rives) Carter, '26, and not far from Lola (Haygood) Davis. Lucille (Radney) Newton, '26, is living here. Elizabeth (McDuffie) Morgan, '07, and Olive (Capps) Charters, '11, have been busy helping Phi Mu rush.

"I have been elected president of the W. C. T. U. and the pastor has given me a Sunday School class of boys and girls. I miss Marion Dean's baby terribly, but of course her father wanted and needed her.

"Marie (Dover) Carter, '26, looks lovely in the choir at the First Methodist Church here. She is a wonderful help in my department in the church. Bertha Turner, '25, is teaching in the high school here."

Sympathy is extended to Mary Louise (Taylor) Townsend in the death of her husband, Dr. Charles O. Townsend at Woodside, Long Island, in June. Dr. Townsend was formerly a teacher at Wesleyan College. After leaving Wesleyan, he studied at the University of Leipsig in Germany. For many years he was connected with the government in the department of agriculture and as an expert for the tariff commission.

Estelle Tennille, who has taught in the Macon public school system for 41 years, retired this year as teacher of the second grade at Gresham school. She will be at home in Macon with her brother and two nieces, Katharine Carnes (librarian at Wesleyan) and Estelle Carnes.

1895

Class Secretary: Mrs. Harry Ainsworth (Marion Hayes), Thomasville, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Kathleen (Ayer) Hatcher in the death of her husband, George E. Hatcher, Sr., in July. Many of Kathleen's classmates perhaps do not know that she is the artist who painted the portrait of Catherine (Brewer) Benson, first graduate of Wesleyan, which hangs in Tate Hall today. During the Centennial year her four sons, T. Ayer, George E., Jr., Hal, and Milford had the portrait and frame retouched and placed a bronze plaque giving information about the subject and the artist upon the portrait.

1896

Wesleyan was delighted to receive as a gift from Eva Arnold, who was present at Commencement this year, a picture of herself taken at the time of her music recital in the 1890's. It is a valuable addition to the collection of costume pictures of the various years at Wesleyan.

Nell Pringle's father, William Albert Pringle, 82, one of Thomasville's most distinguished citizens, died in February after a long illness.

Lena (Heath) Jones daughter, Lena, had a lovely wedding this summer and she and her husband live at Winston-Salem just seventy miles away. Lena writes: "My baby girl Elizabeth finished college in June and spent the summer in Europe. She will be home this winter with me. I have four grandchildren; Mary Heath has a son and a daughter, and Reba, two daughters. I am so glad that dear old Wesleyan has been saved; I met three alumnae from Atlanta at Montreat and they were telling me about it. My sister Ada (Heath) Montgomery, spent six weeks in the hospital during the summer. She is rejoicing that her son Jack has located in her home, Charlotte."

1897

Class Secretary: Mrs. S. T. Coleman (Edith Stetson) 317 College St., Macon, Ga.

The Macon Telegraph under "Penshots" carried a story in January about Ruth Clark and her work as a teacher in the Macon School system. Ruth Clark is the author of numerous articles which have appeared in "The Instructor", "The Progressive Teacher", "The Grade Teacher", and "The Round Table".

Jamie (Frederick) McKenzie delivered an address over WMAZ, the Macon radio station, in June on the History of Macon County. Since that time she has done a million interesting things. She tells about them in a delightful letter: "I spent six happy, strenuous weeks in Europe,—England, and the continent all the way to Naples with Paris and the International Exposition as the climax. I enjoyed every minute from the trip over and back on the gorgeous Normandie to the fun of adjusting dollars to francs and liras. Best of all I love Italy,—rich in history, tradition, art, romance and beauty. I went to the top of Vesuvius in an automobile over the new Mussolini road to look into the crater at midnight. It was a thrill. I swam in the Adriatic and the blue Mediterranean. I climbed the Alps (not very high!)

"I had a week in New York with my children there. They drove me home for a three weeks visit together. My soldier boy Ben, a lieutenant in the regular army joined us from Oregon. We enjoyed the festivities of the home town, then trips to Cordele, Macon, Atlanta, Americus, Albany, Ft. Valley, etc., with much food and little sleep. Then I visited my sister Louese Hays in Atlanta. Since my return I have talked on 'Political and Agricultural Europe', 'Floral Europe', 'Famous Churches' for the civic clubs, the Woman's club, the Garden Club. I've been to Tifton as 'Matron of Honor' at the Veterans Reunion, and danced with the past commander aged 92! I've been twice a day to our protracted meeting, to a missionary zone meeting. I'm taking a study course in history, I've read 'And So Victoria' and 'Napoleon'.

"For a hobby I work with my flowers, and I collect little pitchers. I have some 300. I enjoy my grand-daughter Christine, aged four. So life is varied and busy. I'm trying to scatter some sunshine as I go, and to remember that success and happiness depend upon the spirit with which we accept life.

"In London I met Maria (Brumby) Sessions looking grand and enjoying life."

Edith (Stetson) Coleman had a delightful trip to England for the coronation, sailing on the Queen Mary in May, accompanying her brother, Eugene Stetson, his wife, Iola (Wise) Stetson of the class of '14, and their little daughter, Iola. The party spent about six weeks in England and France. Edith and her family spent the summer on St. Simon's Island. Since then Iola's son Charles has distinguished himself as a "skipper". There was a handsome photograph of him in the October "Yachting" and this account:

"The skipper of the crew from the Pequod Yacht Club that brought the Sears Bowl and the Junior Championship of the United States back to Long Island Sound, after an absence of fifteen years, was Charles P. Stetson. As one must not be over eighteen years of age to race for this historic trophy and coveted title, 'Charlie' Stetson may still be called a youngster."

Minnie (Parker) Zetrouer is living in Clearwater, Fla., having moved there for her daughter's health after losing her only son, a splendid young man thirty-one years old in an automobile accident four years ago. She writes: "We live on Clearwater Bay and just across from us we see the beach and the modern beach homes where people we read about come to spend the winter. Sometimes I meet a girl who goes to Wesleyan or who has been years ago and I always feel like taking them in my arms and holding them to my heart. At a Wesleyan meeting in Tampa at the home of Minnie (Edwards) Akerman, I had the joy of meeting one of my roommates, Lena Bullock. May Poague came up to me and called 'I know you, Minnie Parker, come to me' and looked the same sweet girl of the old days in Room 21.

"Jessie Barco of '98 has a home here, but spends most of her time in Miami with her sister Ethel (Barco) Jackson. I heard that Foncie (Candler) Sledd's daughter Frances was in Plant City not far from here, so I phoned her. Her husband is the minister there. She said that she had heard her mother speak of me, and remembered me in our old pictures.

"Please tell the other girls of our class that I dream of the happiest days of my life spent with them at Wesleyan and love each of Vera (Clinton) McBirney wrote to her them."

classmate, Edith (Stetson) Coleman, recently:

"I could not get Wesleyan and the class of 1897 out of my mind at commencement time. Wish I could have just made a flying trip down there for Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, but that is impossible since I had an operation on both feet on May 8th. They tell me that in two months I shall be so 'streamlined' I shall be able to do more than I ever have.

"I shall never forget the grand time we had at your lovely home at our reunion ten years ago. That afternoon, dinner and evening are the high points of my life since I left school. You are a most remarkable president and a charming hostess. We all know what a fine wife, mother, mother-in-law and loving grandmother you are—in fact, we of 1897 are so glad we know you and that you chose Wesleyan as your school. Think what we would have missed had you not gone to Wesleyan!

1898

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. G. Stephens (Lucy Evans), 615 Linwood Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

Mary (Callaway) Jones won the Thomas B. Osborne cup, awarded at a convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, for her "Reminiscences of Isaac Winship." Mrs. Jones is the second Georgian to win this cup since it was offered in 1929.

Clara (Rumph) Grice won the Vivian Yeiser Laramore prize for poetry, it was announced in February at the Macon Writers' Club. Her husband, Warren Grice, was recently appointed by Governor Rivers of Georgia associate justice of the state Supreme Court.

1899

An Atlanta architect has a photograph of Annie (Kimbrough) Small's Macon home on the wall of his office because of its beautiful architectural lines. The late Neel Reid, architect, once said that he considered the house the loveliest in all Georgia.

1900

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. E. Hays (Louese Frederick), Rhodes Memorial Hall, Atlanta, Ga.

Louise (Frederick) Hays is State Historian of Georgia with offices in Rhodes Memorial Hall, Atlanta.

1901

Class Secretary: Mrs. Oscar Crittenden (Helen Land), Shellman, Ga.

Mary (Park) Polhill, the first president of the LaGrange Wesleyan Club, has been treasurer of the Methodist Missionary Society for 23 years. She teaches a Sunday School class of college girls, holds D.A.R. and U.D.C. offices. Her home is a center for civic, social, patriotic, religious and cultural meetings.

1902

Class Secretary: Mrs. F. M. Mullino (Mary Addie (Murphy) Montezuma, Ga.

Rosalie (Hazelhurst) Hammond and her daughter, Marie Hammond, Cons. '34, are the only mother-daughter members of the LaGrange Wesleyan Club. Marie has been in Chicago for the past year continuing her voice study at the American Conservatory.

1903

Class Secretary: Lucy Lester, 658 Pensacola St., Tallahassee, Fla.

Mamie (Lester) Peebles lives in Nashville,

Ga., with her daughter, son-in-law, and two little grandchildren. She is a member of the Methodist Church and Woman's Missionary Society, and has charge of the local work of the society.

Sympathy is extended to Maggie May (Mitchell) Otto in the death of her husband in January. She has two daughters, Margaret (Otto) Lamb, A.B. '28, and Dorothy (Otto) Hope, A.B. '30. Dorothy has a little daughter, Peggy.

1904

Class Secretary: Mrs. T. L. Ross (Helen Roberts) 629 Orange St., Macon, Ga.

Eleanor (Dallis) Stallings is one of the most popular chaperones for the high school set at LaGrange. Mary, Eleanor's only daughter, graduated in January from LaGrange High with a high scholastic record, and is at Wesleyan this year. Her son, Vergil, after specializing in Air Conditioning in Philadelphia, is employed by the Smith Manufacturing Company in Chattanooga.

Florrie (Fulton) Thompson has had enough honors in the past few years to make any mother rejoice. Donald, her eldest son, was one of the youngest, if not the youngest man on record to receive a Ph.D. degree from Harvard. He was 25. He was instructor in chemistry at Harvard until he became research chemist at the Dupont de Nemours Experimental Station at Wilmington, Delaware. Alwin, the second son, after a splendid record at Emory, has a responsible position with the same company at Des Moines, Iowa. He was married last fall to Miss Marianna Pinckard of LaGrange. Hal, after being valedictorian of his class at LaGrange High School, entered Harvard, where he is a sophomore this year. Jean completed her grammar school work with first honors, and was voted "best all-round". Florrie, "Mrs. President of LaGrange College" is chairman of a missionary circle, and has just completed two successful years as chairman of the Reading Circle of the Woman's Club.

Olin G. Beall, son of Annie (Maguire) Beall of Macon was ordained as a rector of the Episcopal church in August, and became rector of St. James parish in Cedartown in September.

1905

Class Secretary: Margie Burks, Florida State College for Women, Tallahassee, Fla.

Agnes (Akins) Atkinson (Special) lives now in Pasadena, California, and is the author of a number of books for children. Her articles and photographs depicting the life of animals in the Eaton Canyon of California have appeared in magazines. Among her published books are "Blinky", "Skinny, the Gray Fox", and "Perkey, a Biography of a Young Skunk". They are published by the Viking Press, Inc. of New York, and can be purchased in almost any book shop or department store. She is planning a series of these books to be known as "The Man House Series". Agnes' address is Mrs. Spencer R. Atkinson, Box 264, Pasadena.

May (Clarke) Harber's son, Dr. G. Dillard Harber, moved to Macon last fall to be associated in the practice of medicine with Dr. W. W. Chrisman. Her friends are distressed that a serious fall has caused him to have to be taken to Johns-Hopkins as a patient.

Sympathy is extended to Margaret (Cooper) Wilson, M.B. '05, and to her daughter, Margaret Wilson, A.B. '35, in the death of their son and brother, John E. Wilson, Jr. of pneumonia in February. The young man was associated in the insurance business with his father in Macon.

Mary (Copelan) Evans' daughter, Virginia, was presented with a silver loving cup by the Alpha Delta Pi sorority at the University of Georgia as the best pledge of the Beta Nu Chapter of the sorority.

Laurie (Winn) Garner's son, Bobby, has been studying law in Washington, D. C., and working at the same time. Her daughter, Henrietta, has been studying at the Corcoran School of Art. Henrietta is quite talented in art, and began her work under the late Mollie Mason, A.B. '70.

1906

Class Secretary: Mrs. T. J. Stewart (Octavia Burden), Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Mamie (Callahan) Maddox in the untimely death during the summer of her daughter, Harriet, a young matron of Bainbridge. Harriet leaves three little children, two boys and a girl.

Joe Crump, son of Jennie (Riley) Crump, is a student at Harvard University.

Annabel Horn, new president of the Wesleyan Alumnae Association, is receiving many congratulations on the enthusiastic reception of her Latin text-book.

Dear Classmates:

On a trip by motor to the West, I called over the telephone Lucile (McRae) Wassell, of the class of '08, who is living at Little Rock, Ark. At Amarillo I talked at length to Louise (Monning) Elliott, of our class. Near Russellville, New Mex., I met a girl who, upon learning that we were from Georgia, asked about Wesleyan College because a friend Nel (Mullis) Jones, A.B. '30, had attended Wesleyan.

At Scarritt College a Retreat was held September 17-20. It was my pleasure to meet Era (Monk) Bryan of Fort Worth, Texas. She was a classmate of Edith (Stetson) Coleman, and a daughter of Dr. Alonzo Monk, once pastor of Mulberry Street Church. She knew many Macon people and inquired about them with interest.

Octavia (Burden) Stewart,
Class Secretary.

1907

Class Secretary: Mrs. Nelson Mallary
(Willie Erminger), 117 Callaway St., Macon, Ga.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Mattie (Chappell) Lawton and her husband of New Orleans had a delightful cruise to Guatamala during the summer.

Ruth Hopkins has been principal at Harwell Avenue Grammar School at LaGrange for a number of years. Each year under her artistic direction a May Day Festival is held in the out-door theatre adjoining the school. Capacity crowds attend, and the public insists that each one is better than the last, if possible. Ruth's friends have been grieved with her recently in the death of her brother, Mr. Stiles Hopkins of Atlanta and Athens, one of Georgia's distinguished lawyers. Ruth, with a party of friends, studied during the summer at the University of Vermont, and before returning home, had a delightful trip through the New England states and Canada.

Sarah Branham was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Science this summer by the University of Colorado, which makes the third doctor's degree she has to her name, the others being the Ph.D. and the M.D. Sara's friends enjoyed seeing her this Commencement when she was at Wesleyan to attend the meeting of the Board of Trustees and to address the Phi Delta Phi Honor Society. She visited Helen (Roberts) Ross, A.B. '04, and her classmate, Willie (Ermingier) Mallary after commencement, spent several days in Oxford, her old home, and had a delightful vacation in the Colorado Rockies later in the summer.

Class Secretary: Mrs. Clayton Buchanan (Mattie Adams), 208 Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

John B. Harris, Jr., son of Louise (Ermingier) Harris, was an honor graduate of Lanier High School in June, and delivered an address at Commencement on "The Supreme Court and Its History". He is this fall a freshman at the University of Georgia, and has pledged Chi Phi.

Irma (Neal) Little of Marietta is Conference Superintendent of Study of the North Georgia Woman's Missionary Society. She has two sons: Rosser Neal, age 21, graduated from the University of Georgia this year and was champion of golf in the Intercollegiate Tournament, in April. Bill, age 18, is a sophomore at the university.

Margaret (Smith) Ambler's granddaughter, Jane Ambler Hodges, was born in December, 1936 in Macon.

Lucy (Stanley) McArthur of Dublin is the composer of a song, "Long Live Our Georgia" which is dedicated to the state regent of the D.A.R. and was sung in her honor at a state meeting of that organization in Swainsboro.

1909

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. C. Cantrell (Estelle Manning), Carrollton, Ga.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

1910

Class Secretary: Mrs. Robert D. Shaw (Susie Kromer), 2019 E. 14th St., Tulsa, Okla.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Jennie Daughtry has an attractive antique shop in Allentown, Ga., her home.

Jewel (Faver) Glass has two children, Katherine Faver, a graduate of LaGrange and of Emory University and now librarian at Carrollton High School; and Robert Neil, who is fifteen, and spent the summer at Camp Dixie. Jewel, Margaret (Atkinson) Clark, Marion (Arnall) Roberts, and Mary (Power) Burks are all LaGrange alumnae who were "Newnan girls" when they were at Wesleyan.

1911

Class Secretary: Mrs. Warren Timmerman, (Marie Adams), 657 College St., Macon, Ga.

Annie (Miller) Lyndon's son, Miller, entered Harvard this year, having completed his work at the University of Georgia last year. He is the grandson of Lucy (Lundie) Lyndon, A.B.'69.

Gladys (Napier) Corbin's niece, Walton Bowen, was married in December to Albert Phillips Reichert of Miami, Fla. Walton received her A.B. degree from Duke University in June.

Floy (Oliver) Alden's daughter, Ann Jeter, was married to Marion Rivers in June.

Winnie (Power) Groover has two children, Winifred, ten, and Charles, five. Friends in LaGrange say everyone there wants to kidnap them for keeps.

Mrs. Florrie C. White is living this winter with her daughter, Betty Lou, at 5346 Cornell Ave., Chicago, Ill. She sends messages of love to all her "girls", and says that one of her greatest joys is using the Wesleyan plates and cups and saucers which were given her by the alumnae at Commencement.

1912

Class Secretary: Jennie Loyall, Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga.

Claribel (Davenport) Hooks has had a busy fall with plans for the marriage of her daughter, Lelia, to Charles Edward McConnell, Jr. of Charleston, W. Va. Claribel's sister married Quentin Melton, brother of Emily (Melton) McNelley, '13, and editor of the paper at Griffin. Lelia has been society editor on this paper and has been living in Griffin.

Alice (Domingos) Evans has started her work as new chairman of Group 3 of the Atlanta Club with a bang. Already we have received a copy of their lavender and purple year-book on the general subject "Travel". There are monthly meetings with one alumna serving as hostess, another recounting an interesting trip, and one class represented in the group being honor guests. Alleen (Poer) Hinton is to meet with them in the fall to talk of China, and Jennie Loyall, in the spring to talk of Italy. Jennie went abroad this summer visiting Italy, France, and Belgium.

Martha Balkcom, the daughter of Martha (Howard) Balkcom has entered the freshman class this fall. They live at Rivoli near the old Howard home, not far from Wesleyan.

Rosalie (Mallory) Willingham's son, Frank, is at the University of Georgia and her daughter, Rose, at Gunston this winter.

Reba (Moore) Standifer's two daughters are back at Wesleyan. Sadie, the older, is a senior. Reba is one of the 1912 girls who came up to commencement.

Lillian (Nutting) Branan wrote in May, 1937: "I have been in hopes of getting to Wesleyan to the class reunion this year, but don't believe I can, as much as I would like to. I am always so interested in reading what other Wesleyan girls are doing. I will ever be grateful to Wesleyan and to Dr. Dingley Brown for my study there. I still keep up my music in a 'small town' way in Sanford, Florida. Of course it is ancient history now, but I had one season with the Metropolitan Opera in New York. It was only the chorus, but we did ten operas, and I have often wondered if any other Wesleyan girl did that. My daughter, Lillian, is in New York studying now. My two boys, William and Arthur, are going to the Scout Jamboree in Washington."

Ves Parker's time is again taken up looking after a baby. Her niece, June, and her husband have a little son, born during the summer at Arcadia and named "Gene". Vivian Parker, June's sister, is back at Wesleyan Conservatory for her second year.

Alleen (Poer) Hinton had an interesting trip to the Orient, leaving in February and returning in June. One of the outstanding occasions was the beautiful luncheon at which Eling (Soong) Kung entertained Alleen and her party of fellow Georgians in Shanghai. All of them were charmed with the graciousness and hospitality of Madame Kung.

Mabel (Rawlings) Gunnels is having an interesting time in Washington where she is working in a government office. She writes that she often thinks of Wesleyan and promises to "drop by almost any time."

Eula (Riley) McAfee's sons, John and Billy, have left for their schools, John to the University of Georgia Medical School, and Billy to Gordon Military College in Barnesville.

Ruth (Vickers) Fulwood of Tifton has a hobby like that of the late Queen Victoria of England, collecting dolls, and she has a regular museum of dolls from all over the world.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Alleen (Poer) Hinton in the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. M. L. Poer, on October 10, and to Lucile (Ray) Lawton in the death of her father, Mr. B. T. Ray of Madison on October 30. Mrs. Poer had made her home in Macon with Alleen for the last fifteen years and all of us felt her interest in Alleen's activities for Wesleyan. Mr. Ray had a heart attack and died before Lucile could arrive from her home in Washington, D. C. He and Mrs. Ray had lived in Madison some years and as always were leaders in the church and beloved by a wide circle of friends.

1913

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. J. Taylor (Elizabeth Baker), 1985 Ponce de Leon Ave., N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

Katharine Carnes, Wesleyan librarian, attended the meeting of the American Library Association in New York this summer, and studied afterward at Columbia University. She and Frances McCann, A.B.'36, and Martha Dimon, '32, had an apartment together.

The Nancy Hart Chapter of the D.A.R. in Milledgeville planted a tree as a memorial to Mrs. Anna M. Cook, mother of Callie I. Cook, special in '13, and for a number of years teacher of ceramic art at Wesleyan.

Kathleen (McRae) Murphree of Iowa Park, Texas, her husband and two daughters paid a visit to the college while they were in Georgia this summer. The older daughter, Evelyn, expects to enter Wesleyan after one more year in high school.

Sympathy is extended to Luride (Turner) Neal in the death of her mother in June.

One of the disappointments of commencement was that sudden illness in her family prevented Elizabeth (Baker) Taylor, beloved class secretary of 1913, from attending the reunion that she had worked hard to bring about and had anticipated with pleasure. Annie (Gantt) Anderson, Katharine Carnes, Martha (Riley) Holliday, and Helen (Cater) Farmer of Macon added to the fun by staying in the dormitory with "roommates" among their out-of-town class and college mates. Among those on Third Floor Freshman were Emma Mae Rambo and her sister Regina, '08; Bernice (Wright) Wright whose attractive daughter Harriet graduated; Cornelia (Adams) Heath of Columbia; Perry (Wimberly) Harvard, Atlanta; Nelia (Damour) Watts, Thomasville; Ethel Gardner, Adairsville, and her sister Emma of 1911 who expressed our sentiments when she wrote: "We enjoyed our visit back to the college more than ever before though we have had good times each year. Perhaps we are getting nearer the reunioneing age!"

1914

Class Secretary: Mrs. Carroll Griffin (Kathleen Holder) 115 16th St., N. W. Atlanta, Ga.

Helen Branham has a fine position as executive superintendent of a new hospital in Tupelo, Miss. She recently had an exceedingly high honor conferred on her in being elected to membership in the American College of Hospital Administration.

Lucile (Flournoy) Truitt, president of the LaGrange Wesleyan Club for the past two years, was hostess to the club in the spring at her lovely home. Lucile's "always-blooming" garden is a source of constant pleasure to LaGrange, as she is so generous with her flowers. Her oldest son, Forrest, Jr., an Emory S.A.E., is now employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in LaGrange. Robert, an outstanding high school junior, spent the summer at Camp Dixie in north Georgia.

Annie (Marchman) Malone, accompanied by her husband and two sons, returned the first of September to their home in Havana, Cuba, after spending the summer in Villa Rica with her mother.

Floye (Powell) Dumas has resumed her history and Bible classes at Washington seminary in Atlanta, after a two months' tour of the West with the Georgia Caravans.

Nona (Shaw) Moore's son, Roy W., Jr., is at Harvard University this year.

1915

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. S. Dodd (Carolyn Knight), 1913 S. W. 11th St., Miami, Fla.

Margaret (Akerman) Menard and her family have moved to New York, where her husband has accepted a position with the Business Development Office, an organization formed about a year ago by the Insurance Executives Association and the National Association of Fire Insurance Agents.

Louise (Freeman) Fincher's friends deeply sympathize with her in the death of her husband last December in LaGrange. She has recently moved to Athens. The Fincher children are: Mrs. W. T. Green, Travis, Emma Snow, and Harriett.

Sympathy is extended to Leta (Ousley) Anderson in the death of her mother in September.

1916

Class Secretary: Mrs. Jessie W. Davis (Merlyn Hiley), Vineville Court Apt., Macon, Ga.

Christine Broome studied at the University of New Mexico during the summer, and enjoyed delightful trips into Mexico and states near New Mexico after her course was completed.

Lida Franklin writes: "Imagine my surprise, if you please, when I received a card this summer from Miriam Rogers telling me to look in the magazine "Life" for August 16, page 18, and I would find my picture. I was so thrilled, but I knew Miriam must be mistaken. I could hardly wait for the magazine, which a friend sent me. What was the picture? Our own dear Mei-ling Soong and some of the girls who were at Wesleyan when she was—Christine Broome, Edwina (Teasley) Thomas, Lollie Belle (Ernest) Jordan, Jamie (Bachman) Brewer, Lida Franklin, Harriet (Robeson) Lovett, Floye (Powell) Dumas, and who else?—I would love to know where "Life" got the picture.

Editorial note: The picture was sent to the editor of Life by Wesleyan College. It was taken from a picture of the student body the year that Mei-ling was in the freshman, not the sophomore class. The Wesleyan Alumnae Office is anxious to secure as many pictures as possible of the Soong sisters, E-ling, Chung-ling and Mei-ling taken in their college days. If you have any such pictures, kodak pictures or class photographs by photographers, will you not send them to the Alumnae Office? If you wish them returned, we shall have them copied, being very careful not to injure the originals in any way, and mail them back to you right away.)

Harriet (Robeson) Lovett gave to Wesleyan during the summer the Record of the Georgia Students Missionary League, which was organized May 12, 1906, under the guidance of Prof. Charles R. Forster of Wesleyan. The League, which was dear to the heart of Prof. Forster, has a continuous existence until 1916, when its very success became its undoing; the groups of students from various Georgia colleges became so large that no one college could entertain them, and the Georgia Students Missionary League was disbanded. The Record takes an important place among the "souvenirs of other Wesleyan days" as the account of an organization which flourished in all the colleges of the state under the sponsorship of a Wesleyan professor.

Harriet's group of alumnae in Atlanta made an interesting study of themselves and their use of leisure time at one of their programs in the spring. A most interesting tabulation was made by Harriet from the answers given by 25 members.

Hazel (Rogers) Barker, since her marriage to Ernest S. Barker of the U. S. Army during the war, has lived in almost every major encampment in the United States. Her son was born in the Philippine Islands and spent his first birthday on the China sea aboard ship. He is 15 now, and is attending prep school in Brooklyn getting ready to go to West Point. Hazel has kept up her musical career in spite of her many moves since her marriage, always has a prominent place in church choirs wherever she goes, studies voice whenever her husband is stationed near a large city; teaches voice and trains choruses.

1917

Kitty (Cater) Jones was hostess at Laurel Falls Camp, Clayton, Ga., this summer, and her daughter, Roberta, was a camper.

Sympathy is extended to Edith (Culpepper) Turpin of Macon in the death of her father in May.

1918

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. L. Murphy (Marian Cook), 69 Pine St., Rockview Center, L. I., N. Y.

Margaret (Atkinson) Clark was the second president of the LaGrange Club, and will always be "on the pedestal" with her friends as author of the Wesleyan Alma Mater. It was a fitting honor that she should be chosen to march in the "Procession of the Years" at the Centennial celebration in '36.

Genie Fincher is enjoying her work as a private duty nurse. She writes that she had a vacation of a few weeks in the Cohutta mountains of North Georgia this summer.

Vail (Jones) Weems' children, Howard, Jr., 15, and Verna Vail, 11, were both in Sebring, Fla., High School Band which won the highest award at the regional National Band Contest in Rock Hill, S. C., in June. Howard is alto saxophonist and Verna, E flat clarinetist. Vail writes, "We have doubled our hospital and furnished the new part in the latest model furniture. We now have a beautiful new home, 160 S. Lakeview Dr., on Lake Jackson. Enjoy our private beach, swimming, fishing and boating."

Sympathy is extended to Lillian (McRae) Roush in the sudden death of her brother, Lawrence Peacock McRae of Atlanta in January.

Sympathy is extended to Mitta (Pharr) Fields in the death of her husband in the summer. She has one young son, Sherman, fourteen.

Ruth (Pike) Key has moved to Atlanta from LaGrange, but returns several days a week for her classes in piano and speech. The Two Arts Club, under her direction, presents recitals that indicate the excellent instruction they receive. Ruth's lovely lyric soprano is much in demand, especially for weddings, quartets, and solo parts in the choir of the First Baptist Church. Her son, Billy, is a fine youngster who will enter high school in September.

1919

Class Secretary: Mrs. A. L. Gilmore (Rosaline Jenkins), 612 St. John's St., LaFayette, La.

Mary (Powers) Burks is a "lovely to look at" as she was in her Wesleyan days, so say her LaGrange friends.

Consuelo (Proudfit) Hersh is spending the winter with her aunt, Pearl (Napier) O'Daniel, 79, in Macon.

1920

Class Secretary: Mrs. Mark Ethridge (Willie Snow), Prospect, Ky.

Mary Clark is secretary of the dean of Emory University Library School.

Grace (Laramore) Hightower of Thomaston appeared in a voice recital in Thomaston in May. She was accompanied on the piano by Elizabeth (Anderson) Rankin, B.M.'26, of Macon.

Sue Maxwell has a year's leave of absence from her teaching in Birmingham, Ala., to complete work on her Ph.D. degree at Yale University. She also spent the past summer doing some work on the degree at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., where she received her Master's degree a couple of years ago.

Willie (Snow) Ethridge scored a huge success with her first book, "As I Live and Breathe", which was released from the presses of Frederick A. Stokes Co. in the spring. It is a delightful series of informal essays in the breezy style of her "Lotta Slips" column in the Macon Telegraph, and the New York Herald-Tribune gave it a most enthusiastic review. Willie was the honor guest of Rich's store and the Wesleyan alumnae of Atlanta in April at a tea in which "Peggy" Mitchell of "Gone With the Wind" fame was in the receiving line. Many alumnae of Macon drove up for the occasion. In Columbus, Rebekah (Oliphant) Anthony reviewed "As I Live and Breathe" for the Wesleyan Club. In Waycross Willie's classmate, Nell (Bates) Penland had a personality sketch of the author in the paper. Willie is at work on a second book now.

Florence (Trimble) Jones received honorable mention from the National Golden Rule Foundation when they made their annual selection for the "Typical American Mother". Two years ago Lucy (Keen) Johnson, A.B. '94, was selected for this honor.

Contributors to Round Table Fund: Ruth Chapman, Sue Maxwell, Annelu Hightower, Willie (Snow) Ethridge.

1921

Class Secretary: Mrs. Eugene Torrance (Mary Fagan), 532 E. 37th St., Savannah, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Martha (Clark) Baker in the death of her seven-year-old son, Emmett H. Baker, Jr., in March.

Eloise (Colson) Golden lives in Lakeland, where her husband is with the Lakeland Terrace. They have one child.

Winifred Gilmore has returned to Baxley to teach expression. She taught kindergarten last year in Lakeland, Fla.

Mary (Graves) Monteith has accepted a position as education supervisor of the Rand-McNally Publishing Company in a 14-state territory, with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn.

Lucile Lewis has returned to her work at Colegio Buenavista in Havana, Cuba, after a year's furlough in the states.

Alma Murphy is teacher of music at Middle Georgia College, Cochran, Ga. In March her Glee Club of 45 boys and girls sang in Fitzgerald, Alma's old home.

Louise (Stokes) Giles has a second son, Henry Wade, born June 3. Louise's husband has had a teaching fellowship at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., for the past year.

Georgia Thomas, who has been on the faculty at LaGrange High School for several years has accepted a position as librarian in Wilmington, N. C. Her address is 1515 Chestnut St.

Mabel (Woodward) Douglas has a son, George Woodward Douglas, who will be a year old on November 6.

Contributors to the Tri-K Fund: Lucile Lewis, Fayne Moore, Pat Fulwood, Alice (McNair) Hampton, Lora (Waterman) Burke, Margaret (Evans) McDonald, Margaret (Jordan) Sizer.

1922

Sympathy is extended to Jeffie (Bennett) Smith and to Lois (Bennett) Davis (Special '33) in the death of their father in December.

Nell (Eley) Collier was recently elected president of the Wesleyan Alumnae Club of LaGrange. She has one child, Elizabeth Blalock, a most attractive girl of 13. Nell's husband went to Europe during the summer as a member of the National Research Council representing the Callaway Mills of LaGrange, and Nell and her daughter joined him in New York on his return. Nell's music is a part of most weddings, church services, and programs in LaGrange.

Isabelle (Hackett) Kinnett was elected president of the Ingleside-Rivoli Garden Club in Macon in May.

Isma Swain, teacher of English and Glee Club Director of LaGrange High School, has received much complimentary comment on the Glee Club programs from the enthusiastic audiences which attended.

Contributors to Round Table Fund: Sarah Beauchamp, Bruce (Cleckler) Flanders, Jeffie (Bennett) Smith, Julia (Morgan) Wade, Jeannie K. Jewell, Irene (Sewell) Hobby, Elizabeth (Benton) Davis.

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. A. Patterson (Ruth Sears), Cuthbert, Ga.

Eloise Bacon writes: "I saw Winifred Rogers at her home in Moultrie recently. She is teaching in the High School there, and she finished work on her Master's degree this summer at the University of Georgia, with a major in French. She visited Kate (Harrell) Chiles of Rock Hill, S. C., in the summer, and Kate told her of the Pryor girls, Elizabeth and Julia, both married and living in Myrtle Beach, S. C. Julia has five children.

"As for me, I'm still farming, and I find it most fascinating. I rejoice like a farmer and worry like a farmer. I rejoice over the tobacco prices, and now I'm worrying over the cotton price and the way so much of the crop has been in the fields too long."

Floy (Cook) Stephenson writes: "Speaking of old college-mate contacts, I spent Labor Day week-end with Lois (Bobo) Bryan and her five children (ages 3 to 14) at Brooklet, Ga. It was the first time I had seen her in eight years, and the third time I have ever seen her since we were freshman roommates at Wesleyan in 1918. Trav, Sue and I drove down on Saturday and came back Monday. Our little girls, Jill and Sue, are the same age.

"I must tell you a funny incident of the trip, all 'old Wesleyan girls' will understand. Lois and I both talk all the time; our husbands, Trav and T. R. are both very quiet, almost to the point of being speechless. They had never seen each other except on one occasion during our courting days at Wesleyan in the old parlors. We put them in the guest room, and Lois and I took the back bedroom with the little girls, because of course we couldn't catch up on all our talking without talking all night. Well, lo and behold, when we had talked our tongues into silent numbness at about 4:00 A.M., we heard our quiet husbands still talking. And the next night they did the same. Can you beat that?"

Thelma (Jennings) Hotchkiss has a school of beauty culture in Americus, Ga.

Sarah Jones was appointed State Supervisor of School Libraries, effective August 1, 1937. She is the first school library supervisor the state of Georgia has ever had. She received her Library degree from Emory University in 1932, and was with the Lawson-McGhee Library at Knoxville, Tenn., at the time of her appointment to the position of State Supervisor of School Libraries in Georgia.

Ruth Field writes from Osaka, Japan: "Such dear letters come from Rebekah (Oliphant) Anthony and Eloise Bacon about the Golden Heart Scholarship, and the report of the Fund, forwarded to me at my summer cottage where a group of China missionaries have been staying during this anxious summer. I want to send through you a special welcome to Wesleyan to Margaret Cobb, who went to you recently. Please help through these first hard days and "Sophomore Week". It is still an institution? (Editorial note: It is now only "Sophomore Day" and consists of good-natured fun at the expense of the freshmen, who seem to get as many laughs out of it as the sophomores.

It ends with a party for the freshmen by the sophomores.)

Emily (Park) Herman has three adorable children, Emery, Jr., nearly 8, curly-haired Ann, who has just finished the first grade, and Carolyn Isabel, nearly two. Emily's husband is a leading physician and surgeon of LaGrange, and their new colonial home is one of the loveliest to be found anywhere.

Sympathy is extended to Mildred (Shelton) Brooke in the death of her husband, A. L. Brooke, in an automobile accident in August. Mildred has one little daughter, Mildred Shelton Brooke.

Margaret (Shingler) Moore, who lives now in Florence, Ala., has three little sons.

1924

Class Secretary: Mary Thomas Maxwell, G. S. C. W., Milledgeville, Ga.

Louise Ballard sailed on March 30 for England, where she witnessed the pageant of the coronation of King George VI, and enjoyed revisiting London where she spent nine months while writing her Ph.D. thesis, "The Ideal English Gentlewoman in Courtesy Literature from 1500 to 1640". Louise joined in June by her sister, Ray Ballard, A.B., '18, and the two toured continental Europe. Ray is back at Connecticut College for Women as professor of music this fall.

Sympathy is extended to Kathleen (Bardwell) Noble in the death of her seventeen-day-old son, Henry, Jr., in June.

Ailene (Corry) Arensbach is county director of public welfare in Albany, Ga. She and her three-year-old daughter, Corry, live at 217 Tift St.

Catherine Craig is teaching again in Lakeland. She writes that one of her Spanish students studied under Dr. Margie Burks (A. B., '05), at F.S.C.W., and thinks Dr. Burks "hung out the moon". Catherine has sent two of her prize students to Wesleyan, Carol Jones and Virginia Scarborough. She is planning to visit the college herself this fall for the first time since her graduation in '24.

Margaret (Cutter) Elder and her little daughters, Jean and Margaret, spent three months this summer at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Carolyn (Fulghum) McCord and her young son have moved to Lawrence, Kansas, where her husband is a member of the faculty of the University of Kansas.

Sympathy is extended to Eloise (Grah1) Flanders in the death of her father, Rev. J. S. Grah1 of Americus following an automobile accident in August.

Mary Miller had a delightful trip to Europe this summer, visiting Italy, Austria-Hungary, France, Germany, Holland, Switzerland, Scotland and England. She is again teaching in Jacksonville, Fla., and her address is 1502 Aberdeen Ave.

Maurine (Munro) Mauldin and Ouida Johnson studied this summer at Duke University.

Margaret Richards attended the Regional Industrial Conference at Camp Merriewoode, near Brevard, N. C., in June, and afterward had a delightful trip through Asheville, Gatlinburg, and Knoxville.

Helen (Ridley) Smith of LaGrange has an attractive little namesake who will enter the second grade in September.

Contributors to Round Table Fund: Mary Miller, Winifred (Rosser) Moyer, Carrie (Brown) Quillian, Virginia Thomas, Kathleen (Bardwell) Noble, Frances Wootten.

1925

Class Secretary: Mrs. Carey Williams (Celestie Copelan) Greensboro, Ga.

Mary Lou Barnwell went to New Orleans the first of September to take a position as Head Resident of Social Work at St. Mark's Center there. She will study at Western Reserve University in Cleveland during the year.

Maryella Camp studied this summer at Duke University.

Celeste (Copelan) Williams' husband's name appears in the latest edition of "Who's Who in America". He is editor and publisher of the Greensboro, Ga. Herald-Journal.

An attractive picture of Mary Bennett (Cox) Dunwoody with her two sons, Elliott and Eugene Cox, appeared in the Telegraph during the summer.

Mary (Dunn) Floyd has a son, born during the summer.

Laree (Farr) Blanks has a little daughter, Patricia, born in the summer, 1936.

Frances (Peabody) McKay is the president of The Macon Quill Club for 1937-38. She was in the Alumnae Office at Wesleyan for several weeks this spring taking charge of commencement publicity—all this in spite of being a busy wife and housekeeper, and the mother of two little daughters, Mary and Anne, and a very wide-awake little son, Clifford, Jr.

Annie Laurence (Riley) Sawyer has a second daughter, Louise Sawyer, born last December. Her father the Rev. Swoll Sawyer, writes that she is a "future Wesleyanne of the class of 1956".

Jessie (Wandell) Mennekin writes: "My husband and I attend the University of Michigan each summer. He completed his work toward the M.S. degree in physics last summer, and I mine in mathematics this summer. We both teach in the Miami Beach Senior High School.

Contributors to the Tri-K Fund: Mary (Wilson) Stevenson, Loulie (Forrester) Burns, Autrey Lewis, Hattie (Branc) Sibley, Elizabeth Winn, Mary Louise Collings, Eunice Thomson, Zula Pierce, Frances (Peabody) McKay, Vo Hammie (Pharr) Carr, Maryella Camp.

1926

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Elizabeth (Anderson) Rankin spent the summer in New York City, studying music at the Juilliard School of Music. She visited Miss Zillah Halstead in Hacketstown, N. J., en route home.

Elizabeth (Banks) Jarrell's namesake, Betty Banks, who is five, received much attention when she served as flower girl in Newnan at the wedding of Virginia (Banks) St. John. William Franklin Jarrell, Jr., who is called "Billy" is nine months old.

The East Point paper of September 10 carried a picture of Maude Alice Barnum, and a long write-up of her special program for the Fellowship Class of First Methodist Church, East Point, Ga. Maude Alice is teaching in Austell, Ga.

Dr. William Lawrence Barton, brother of Mary Lou Barton, (Voice '26, bursar of Wesleyan Conservatory) is assistant instructor in otolaryngology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York. Dr. Barton studied at Mercer and at the University of Georgia medical school. Last July he went to the Presbyterian hospital in New York to specialize.

Sympathy is extended to Emily (Brown) Edwards in the death of her husband, Prentiss S. Edwards, in March. He was the son of Mr. Harry Stillwell Edwards, and of the late Mary (Lane) Edwards of the class of '76, and the sister of Roxie Edwards, Special

'02. He leaves two sons, Prentis, Jr., and Crawford and a little daughter, Mary Lane, who is already registered as a future Wesleyan student.

Evalyn (Crittenden) Newlands has a little daughter, born during the summer, Mary Anne Newlands. Evalyn's mother, Helen (Land) Crittenden, A.B., '01, has been with Evalyn at her home, "Sleepy Hollow Manor" in Tarrytown, N. Y., and writes of the beauty of the autumn colors and the fine views over the Hudson.

Claudia Dykes completed the Lewis Hotel Training School course this summer, and worked in the office of the Hamilton Hotel in Washington following her graduation. She writes of a trip to New York in the late spring, and of seeing Marie New and Mamie Harmon.

Sarah Jenkins is teaching remedial reading in the junior and senior high schools of Lakeland. She studied with Dr. C. W. Douglas at Duke University this summer.

Madge (Kennon) Hatcher has a little daughter, Kennon, born in February.

Lucile (Radney) Newton very quickly became identified with the social musical, cultural, and religious life of LaGrange when she moved to that city two years ago as a bride. She has been chairman of the music section of the LaGrange Woman's Club for the past two years, and was in part responsible for the club's purchase of a grand piano. She served as organist of the First Presbyterian Church in the absence of the regular organist and has held other offices in the Presbyterian Church and Auxiliary. Friends in LaGrange regret that she recently moved to Gainesville.

Isabelle Richter spent the summer in New York. She is again teaching in Jacksonville, Fla.

Katherine (Walker) McElheny's new address is 4226 University Boulevard, Dallas, Texas.

Margaret (Zattau) Roan has a little daughter, Margaret Zattau, born September 9.

1927

Class Secretary: Mrs. H. B. Hoover (Lucretia Jones), 17 Wendell St., Cambridge, Mass.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Gladys (Baynard) Martin has a little daughter, Gladys Ann, born in September.

Lucile (Bryant) Johnson is one of the most versatile alumnae Wesleyan has. She has been doing publicity work for LaGrange College, and is now a recognized necessity to the college and to the city. She was recently elected chairman of the Reading Circle of the LaGrange Woman's Club, and also secretary of the Wesleyan Club. Last year her "Sketch Book of LaGrange, the City of Elms and Roses", done in collaboration with the art instructor of LaGrange College, appeared. Last fall she and a friend started "The Doorstep Library", a unique library service brought to your home. Reading "Call It a Day" from Burns Mantle's Best Plays of 1935-36 before the Woman's Club, reviewing "Gone With the Wind" in an old fashioned costume at a tea, speaking before the Wesleyan Club in April on "Modern Poetry"—these are some of Lucile's activities.

Elizabeth (Coates) James is under contract to the Belle Syndicate of New York to write a feature called "Great Books in Brief". The Syndicate does the selling, making contracts with newspapers, etc. Elizabeth writes the articles, condensations of famous books. She says of the feature:

"The idea first occurred to me when I was reading extensively for a Master's degree in English literature. It seemed such a shame that so many grand books belong to past centuries and that because people are so hurried and busy making a living, they do not have the time or opportunity to read them. And the vast army of college trained people seldom finds time to go back and re-read the classics that they once read in college days. Such well-read people usually find the condensations interesting because the books come back to mind readily and pleasantly."

The most exciting sale yet made was to a paper in Brisbane, Australia! Elizabeth modestly insists that she is yet at the "bottom of the ladder", and that she lives with the thought in mind that the field of feature writing is highly competitive, and that her series may be taken off the market. But we who know many writers who never got "on" are inclined to crow over her success!

Annie Laurie Daniel spent the summer studying at Duke University.

Claire (Flowers) Varnedoe has a son, Heeth Varnedoe, Jr., born February 10. The baby is the grandson of Flewellyn (Strong) Flowers of the class of '04.

Mary Ellen (Ford) Mershon, Conservatory, has two lovely children, a boy and a girl. Her home is in Lakeland, Fla.

Margaret (Fowler) Patton's husband has been transferred from Charlotte, N. C., to East Orange, N. J., and they are living at 88 N. Walnut St.

Travis (Hopper) Smith has moved to Macon, where her husband has been made sales manager of the Macon Gas Company.

Dorothy Jones has moved from Coronado, Calif., to Honolulu, where her husband is now stationed. She writes: "We love Honolulu, and hope to be here three years—a long time for a naval officer to stay in one place. Our address is 4292 Kahala Ave."

Sarah Louise (Jordan) Robinson has a son, Alfred Bowne Robinson, Jr., born September 4.

Clarissa (Maddux) Henson spent a few days in LaGrange the past spring when her husband, who is a statistician, was sent there. Her lovely little daughter, Patricia, has Clarissa's burnished hair. Clarissa says she has become quite a nomad, for she lives a few months in New York, a few weeks in Florida, a few week-ends in Chicago, and is resting for a bit in Philadelphia now.

The January issue of School and College carries an article by Mary Stanford on "Latin as We Teach It". Her picture appeared with the article.

Minnie Mae (Sweat) Martin is principal of a Haines City, Fla., grammar school. She went to Duke this summer, where she especially enjoyed horseback riding.

1928

Class Secretary: Mrs. E. W. Strozier, Jr., (Mary Nell Wiley), Oxford, Ga.

Class Reunion at Commencement, 1938

Marion (Arnall) Roberts has a handsome four-year-old son, Arnall. She was president of the LaGrange Round Table Club for 1936, and is chairman of a Missionary Circle, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Highland Country Club, and does a number of other things as well. Marion's husband is teacher of English and journalism in the high school.

Cleo (Coley) Clary is recovering from an operation which she underwent in Chattanooga in October.

Addie Funderburke studied at Duke University this summer.

Miriam Hill is teaching this year in the East Newnan School, Newnan, Ga.

Roberta (Jones) Gardner has a second daughter, Roberta Elizabeth. Roberta and her family have moved this fall to Savannah Beach.

Elizabeth (Little) Baker has a son, George Dallas Baker, Jr., born in September.
